GOVERNMENT MOVES TO BREAK FOOD TRUST

Negotiates For Dissolution Consent Decree Which Would Force Company To Dispose Of Its Holdings

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Justice Department officials today were understood to be negotiating with counsel for the Ward Food Products corporation—$2,000,000,000 firm, charged with operating in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act for a dissolution consent decree.

Such a decree, it was said, would automatically force the corporation to discontinue its holdings in other baking concerns, thus eliminating a monopoly of the baking industry. Officials intimated that should a consent decree be ordered, the defendants in the case would be required to discontinue themselves of stocks, bonds and other evidences of indebtedness of any company.

Negotiations to end the Ward suit out of court followed the filing of a dissolution consent decree recently by the National Food Products Corporation and concern charged with attempting to monopolize the milk and dairy products in various sections of the country.

Should officials of the justice department be unable to obtain a consent decree, proceedings against the merger will be opened at Baltimore, Md., this month.

MISSING JAMESTOWN BUSINESS MAN TRACED TO CINCINNATI IS BELIEVED

Lodge Aids Private Inquiries For D. L. Earley—Receiver For Elevator May Be Asked—
Wife Is Prostrated

Private search for Daniel Lee Earley, 40, Jamestown, owner of grain elevators at Rosemoor, east of Jamestown, and at New Jasper, who disappeared from his home Monday, led to Cincinnati Wednesday.

It has been definitely established by Deputy Sheriff John Baughn that the missing man boarded a Pennsylvania train for Cincinnati early Tuesday from Dayton. Authorities are not investigating in their official capacity but are making inquiries at the request of the family.

Most definite clue concerning Earley's movements after being driven to Xenia Monday in a truck by an employee of the New Jasper mill at 8 o'clock, was furnished by A. F. Rudd, city, who is employed in Dayton as a salesman for the Queen City Products Co.

ASSOCIATE OF BELL RECALLS MAKING OF FIRST TELEPHONE

Interviewed By Long
Distance On 50th
Anniversary

TAMPA, Fla., Mar. 10.—Just fifty years ago today the first sentence ever transmitted by telephone carried faintly about seventy-five feet between Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor and his assistant, Thomas A. Watson.

Striking contrasts were drawn today when Watson, who constructed the world's first successful telephone from Bell's plan, commemorated the anniversary with a long-distance conversation with the United Press.

The first set was a two-person apparatus having only one way talking circuit.

"The world's first telephone sentence was a call for help," the 72-year-old experimenter said.

"Mr. Bell and I had been experimenting with rather unsatisfactory results for about nine months. On March 10, 1876, we were in his laboratory at No. 5 Exeter place, Boston, Mass., testing a new apparatus," he said. "I was listening in another room about seventy-five feet from Mr. Bell" he continued.

"Suddenly I heard his voice saying very plainly, 'Watson, please come here, I want you.'"

"That was the first sentence ever transmitted. It was a call for help and I rushed down the hall to the room where my partner was experimenting. I found he had upset a galvanic battery and spilled acid all over his trousers.

"Bell forgot all about his trousers, however, when I told him how plainly I had heard his voice and he ran to the other room and I talked over our new telephone. It was a one way set and he could not answer as we took turns talking to each other."

The first conversation on an outdoor line, was on a wire two miles long between Boston and Cambridge, in October, 1877, Watson said.

"We thought that was wonderful but the development of the telephone and telegraph system since then was amazing to us."

Bell died in 1922.

The first telephones to be put into practical use were installed by Watson and Bell in Boston early in 1878.

"We put up about fifty lines from private houses to down town offices," Watson said. "Later we developed a central office or exchange."

Bell was twenty-seven years old and Watson twenty-two when the former invented the telephone. Bell received a small salary at Boston University and Watson was working in an electrical shop.

"We were living in rooms that cost 2 a week and our board came to $3.50," he said. "So you can see that we didn't have very much money."

Bell became acquainted with Watson when the former called at the electrical shop in 1874 to have a harmonic telegraph instrument made.

"I made all of Bell's apparatus for him," Watson said, "and constructed the world's first successful telephone from his plans."

Two other men were associated with Bell and Watson in their experiments, he said.

The work caused Watson to suffer a breakdown in 1881 and he quit the telephone business never to return. He entered the ship building industry and retired in 1904. Since then he has devoted his time to traveling and reading.

RESCUE CREWS SEEK FIVE MEN ENTOMBED IN SHAFT; 10 SAVED

Thirteen Bodies Are Removed—Three Unaccounted For

ECCLES, W. Va., March 10. Rescue crews today are exploring the inner recesses of shaft No. 5 of the Crab Orchard improvement Company's mine here, seeking five men still entombed. Two of these are known to be dead and three are listed as "unaccounted for."

Ten men were rescued alive after almost twenty-six hours of entombment in No. 5 shaft.

Thirteen bodies have been removed from Shaft No. 5, and one

REPORT TROY DEATH SOLUTION NEAR BUT PROSECUTOR SILENT

Harvey Refuses To Deny
Rumor Which Involves A accomplice

TROY, O., March 10.—If predictions are borne out, an arrest will be made tomorrow night in connection with the Frances Drake Nesbitt murder mystery.

"I cannot deny there will be an arrest soon, but there is nothing we can give out at this time," Prosecutor Harvey told the United Press today, discussing rumors an arrest was imminent.

Reports here today insisted an arrest would be made—perhaps tomorrow—and that this action will pave the way for the apprehension of an accomplice who will be charged as "an accessory after the fact."

On the other hand, those in touch with the situation, insisted an arrest will not be made tomorrow, nor for several months or perhaps years.

Police Chief John Sharits continued investigating the now famous murder mystery today as did Ora Slater, special investigator from Cincinnati. Both were reported working along widely divergent lines.

Chief Sharits made a hasty trip to Union City yesterday. Upon his return he informed reporters he had discovered nothing that could be published.

Slater also had no report to make.

Prosecutor Harvey conferred with Special Prosecutor Alva Campbell and Detectives Foote and Wilcox.

CLEVELAND POLICE TRANSFER PROBE OF MURDER TO SHERIFF

Information Turned Over
—Slaying Done Outside City

CLEVELAND, O., March 10.—Cleveland police today withdrew from investigation of the Sam Volpe murder, which began Sunday when the bullet riddled body of Volpe was found frozen in the snow in a secluded wood of Pepper Pike village.

Detective Inspector Cornelius Cody said investigation had convinced him the murder was committed in Cuyahoga County, outside the jurisdiction of Cleveland police.

All evidence held by police was turned over to the sheriff's office.

Immediately following withdrawal of police, County Prosecutor Edward Stanton went into consultation with Deputy Sheriff Martinec, Nunzio Ciravolo, companion of the slain man, was being held in Canton today for questioning. Two suspects were being held here. A third man picked up for questioning has been permitted to return to Canton.

Investigation of the mystery death is being carried along on two theories; that Volpe was slain by a bootleg ring or that he was slain because of attentions to a woman.

BACHELOR MURDERS GIRL THEN COMMITS SUICIDE IS REPORT

Refusal To Marry Angers
Man Who Wields
Gun

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Mar. 10.—Dependent upon the refusal of pretty Mary Bogachia, 15-year-old school-girl, to marry him, Thomas W. Butler, 51, bachelor, shot the girl to death and then sent a bullet through his own head and died soon afterward.

The shooting took place at the Butler home, at Maynard, near here, where Mary had gone to prepare supper for Thomas and Joseph Butler, brothers.

According to police, Mary had been taking care of their house since the Butlers' sister died.

Anxious at the girl's failure to return home last night, Mrs. Mike Bogachia, her mother, sent her brother to investigate. He found the dead girl in the kitchen. Police later found Butler, who died shortly afterward, still clutching a revolver in his hand.

An investigation will be conducted today by Coroner Clyde C. Hardesty.

ASKS COOLIDGE TO DENOUNCE DRY LAW

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Chargings President Coolidge "dare not, for political consideration, tell the country the plain truth about prohibition in a straight hewn New England way," Rep. Loring Black, New York democrat, today called upon the chief executive to tell the country that the prohibition law cannot be enforced without modifications.

Coupled with this new wet move on the house side, came a novel proposal from Representative Andre Somers, Democrat, New York, for a congressional poll throughout the nation on prohibition. He introduced a resolution calling for ballots which congressmen could distribute in their districts.

SUSPEND POLICE AS SEQUEL TO ARREST

CANTON, O., Mar. 10.—Captain Ben Clark, director of the Canton Bertillon bureau and four members of the police force were suspended today for thirty days without pay.

The suspensions were ordered by Safety Director James A. Wright, who charged Clark with insubordination and suspended the patrolmen as a "disciplinary measure."

The patrolmen were Floyd Streitenberger, Homer Moore, Star Bodenheimer and Joseph Metzger.

Clark's suspension, according to Wright, was in connection with the ousting two weeks ago of Police Chief S. A. Longel, on a general charge of "inefficiency and incompetency."

The suspensions, it was said, grew out of the arrest of Fred Crankshaw, 40, a salesman and former Canton attorney, without a warrant.

Crankshaw, according to Wright had been in Columbus investigating the allegations.

SEEK EXTRADITION OF YOUNG SLAYERS

COLUMBUS, Mar. 10.—(UP)—Governor Vic Donahey today formally requested the extradition of James and Leonard Lyons, held at Alpena, Mich., for the murder of Frank McGrath, express company detective at Havana, Ohio, several weeks ago.

It was expected that Gov. Groesbeck, of Michigan, would sign the extradition papers today and that the youthful brothers would be returned to Norwalk, near Havana tonight.

SCOFFS AT CLAIMS ANIMAL LIFE CREATED

LORAIN, O., March 10.—Prof. Francis Herrick, head of Western Reserve biology department, and distinguished scientist, today scoffed at the claims of J. F. Mazur, Lorain bacteriologist, that he has, and can, create animal and vegetable life by artificial means.

So positive is Herrick that the Lorain man has made no remarkable discovery that he does not even care to look over the apparatus used, he told a reporter of the United Press.

"I have talked over with Mazur his experiments and I am convinced beyond the slightest doubt that any life he has brought forth is the result of contaminated apparatus as has been the case of many other bacteriologists who thought they had made discoveries."

"If Mazur had really anything remarkable to offer to the scientific world, the school where he received his training would jump at the chance to support him. It wouldn't for a moment let the discovery slip through its fingers."

"Scientists have been actively at work for more than sixty years attempting to create life by unnatural phenomena. If the discovery is ever made yet it can be sure that it will not be by some individual working off to himself somewhere."

NEW CANDIDATE

COLUMBUS, O., March 10.—Former State Senator Roland C. Davis of Hamilton, today, filed his declaration of candidacy for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. Davis was a member of the senate in the 84th General Assembly. He is the first Republican to file for nomination for the post.

KNOWS HIS APPLES
CHARDON, O., Mar. 10.—(UP)—Aldin Hazin, 86, Civil War veteran "knows his apples."

Hazin is the possessor of the oldest apple in the world—52 years old. He has preserved it during that period by sticking cloves into it.

HEAD OF "COLLEGE" INDICTED ON FALSE DIPLOMA CHARGES

Aged Man Will Give Up
—Denies His School
Illegal

CLEVELAND, O., Mar. 10.—Solomon L. Long, 74, head of the "College of Anatomical Science," indicted yesterday by the county grand jury on charges of having issued a false medical diploma, announced today that he would give himself up to county authorities.

The indictment charges that on December 30, 1923, he issued a diploma to W. M. Wohl, conferring upon him the degree of "Doctor of Anatomical Science."

Long's indictment was the result of a three months investigation conducted by Mrs. Anna Dietrich and her son, Lawrence, inspectors for the state medical board.

Long has been conducting his "college" in Cleveland for the past three years. Prior to coming here he operated a school in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Long, who was born in Virginia and raised in Texas, emphatically denies Mrs. Dietrich's charges that he is in violation of the law in conducting his school.

BRIAND LEAVES FOR GENEVA MEETING

PARIS, Mar. 10.—Premier Briand plans to depart today for Geneva where representatives of almost every civilized nation in the world have been waiting since Monday for the arrival of an official spokesman of the French government.

Briand will leave behind him a confused political situation which probably will result in his defeat in parliament and resignation from the premiership soon after he returns from Geneva.

WOMAN MADE MAYOR OF SEATTLE, WASH.

SEATTLE, Wash., Mar. 10.—Mrs. Bertha Landes is the newly elected Mayor of Seattle, but she will take office only to resign.

The voters yesterday elected her but adopted the city manager plan of government, abolishing the office of mayor.

Mrs. Landes favored this charter revision and will retire to allow the city council to choose the manager.

POLICEMAN SHOT BY CHIEF DURING ROW

DETROIT, March 10.—Michigan State Police today clamped the lid on a hotly boiling political pot in Hamtramck—a separate municipality within the city limits of Detroit—following the shooting of Patrolman Charles Sudis by Chief of Police William Marguardt during an election row at headquarters late yesterday.

TO RETURN BLANKET INDICTMENT AFTER CONSPIRACY PROBE

Expect 125 Will Be Named By Federal
Grand Jury

CLEVELAND, March 10.—A blanket indictment, said to be unique in the history of the federal district court of Ohio, is expected to be returned Friday by the Federal Grand Jury, as the result of four weeks searching investigation of the Superior Alcohol Company.

Upwards of 125 persons will be named in the indictment, fifty of whom are already under arrest, it was said.

"The brains" of the huge alcohol ring described in the true bill are located in Philadelphia, and the others involved in the case, reside in twelve cities scattered throughout the country. The alleged master minds, together with their chief lieutenant, the jury learned, have become millionaires within the short span of two years.

Not only will this document hint of the gigantic flow of alcohol direct from government distilleries into bootleg channels, but will expose a tremendous wave of alleged corruption which immersed railroad and government employees.

Light is expected to be thrown on murders committed as the result of illicit traffic of booze in this large sized indictment being completed by E. E. Bernstein, federal district attorney and his assistants.

Several hundred witnesses have been called during the last few weeks, including bankers, distillers, life convicts, high railroad officials, department of justice and prohibition enforcement employees, as well as municipal judges, prosecutors and policemen, who have told what they know of the alleged conspiracy to the grand jury.

ASK DISMISSAL OF FOREMAN OF JURY

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 10.—Dismissal of the foreman of the jury that is to try David L. Marshall, chiropractor, for the murder of Anna May Dietrich, was looked for today.

A sensational revelation that Joseph Mooney, 46, a sub-contractor, the first juror chosen in the trial, was an acquaintance of Abraham Wernick, Marshall's counsel, was laid before Judge McDevitt, presiding at the trial, shortly before adjournment yesterday.

Court was immediately adjourned and a heated argument between the opposing counsel on the competency of Mooney as a juror, was carried on in the judge's ante-chamber.

Since only eight jurors have been chosen thus far, it is believed District Attorney Charles Edwin Fox will challenge Mooney today and the challenge will be allowed.

NOTHING TO DELAY GERMAN ADMISSION

LONDON, Mar. 10.—Premier Baldwin today announced to the house of commons that neither delay or difficulty now are anticipated in Germany's election to the League of Nations and to a permanent seat on the council.

It is presumed that Baldwin's statement was made on the latest advice from Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary at Geneva.

Her Beauty Didn't Conquer Hollywood

Road to film fame finally has proven too steep for Flora Le Breton, beauty who came to U. S. as the "British Mary Pickford" amid a fanfare of publicity. She has given up the struggle for screen honors to appear in a New York revue.

WOMAN ATTENDS FUNERAL RITES OF HUSBAND HELD AS HIS SLAYER

Breaks Down at Bier—Daughter Whose Testimony
Caused Her Arrest Showers Mother
With Affection

LORAIN, O., March 10.—Accompanied by Sheriff Fred Underhill, Mrs. Stella Kaiser, pretty middle-aged woman accused of killing her husband, Harvey Kaiser, following an all-night party, attended funeral services for her husband here last night.

The accused woman broke down when she saw the body and breaking away from the sheriff, she ran to the side of the coffin.

She leaned over and kissed the dead face, crying: "My Harvey, God, I want my Harvey back. I need him."

Mrs. Kaiser and her daughter, Violet, 13, whose story of the shooting resulted in her mother's arrest, met for the first time since the shooting last night at the funeral rites of the husband and father.

The girl threw her arms around her mother and showered her with kisses.

The only relative of the dead man present was a brother, Clifford Kaiser, of Cincinnati, who

MACREADY AGAIN CALLS OFF FLIGHT

DAYTON, O., March 10.—For the second successive day, atmospheric conditions today caused Lieut. John A. Macready to postpone his flight in an attempt to recapture the world's altitude record. Weather conditions permitting, the flight will be made tomorrow.

SMALL SIZED BILLS ARE BEING PLANNED BY MINT OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Substitution of a bill about two-thirds the size of the present currency is under consideration by a special Treasury Department committee, according to Herbert D. Brown, Chief of the Bureau of Engraving.

Brown said the committee was studying the possibility of issuing currency about the same size as that used in the Philippine Islands, in place of that now in circulation.

The average life of government money, according to Brown, has increased to 10 months or more. About a year ago it averaged seven months.

"The life of notes of smaller denominations," said Brown, "is very much shorter than those of larger denominations because they are in more active use. A hundred dollar bill would last almost indefinitely, because it has less use."

Because of inferior paper and inability of chemicals to stand up, Brown said the Treasury had abandoned the practice of washing currency.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

MARY WAITE, a stenographer, has a misunderstanding with STEWART HOWE, whom she loves, because she has accepted the attentions of an older man, PAT HAMILTON, who is a prominent politician. Mary finds that Hamilton's interest in her is the wrong kind, and runs away from him one evening when they are dining together. Soon afterward she loses her position, and gets another with STANLEY BLAKE, who has just gone into business for himself. She meets CELIA STEWART, and together they set up housekeeping in two rooms. Celia meets Blake, and flirts with him.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XVI—THE WAYS OF A MAN

MARY was not a little disturbed by Celia's comments on Stanley Blake. "But then, what's a wife between friends? That man's going to have a lot of money some day."

Was Celia the kind of girl who'd go around with married men, without their wives? Evidently she was. Mary did like that. The girls she'd been brought up with never did it. Once a man was married he belonged to his wife. Why, Celia didn't even know Mrs. Blake!

Celia wasn't turning out at all the way Mary had expected her to. "Of course, I didn't really know her at all when we decided to live together," Mary reminded herself. "We were absolutely strangers, only I liked her so well, and it seemed as if we'd be so congenial—"

She still liked Celia, for that matter. Celia was usually bright and cheerful, she took a genuine interest in helping Mary to dress more becomingly, and do her hair more fashionably; they had a lot of fun over their housekeeping.

But Celia was deceitful in little things. She'd say she had dusted the living-room while Mary did dishes, for instance, and then Mary would lift a newspaper and find the table beneath it covered with dust. She'd say she had dried the dishes, when it was her turn to clean up after dinner, and Mary would find that she had put them away wet, counting on their being dry by morning. Mary had heard her do this to Mrs. Lindsay, their landlady, that she had scrubbed the bathtub after her morning bath, when Mary knew she hadn't.

And she had a nasty temper, that flared up over little things and made her say ugly things. She'd make up beautifully afterward, of course, and Mary told herself that Celia really didn't mean to be disagreeable, but sometimes it was hard not to feel hurt.

She saw little of Stanley Blake during the next few days; one day he merely phoned, and did not come into the office at all. Early that afternoon his wife called the office and asked for him.

"He isn't in," Mary replied.

"But—are you sure? I know that he expected to be at the office at two o'clock."

"He isn't here," Mary told her again, speaking as politely as she could. "Should I ask him to call you if he does come in?" He phoned that he wouldn't be here today.

She could not realize that a woman who is kept at home hates to feel that some other woman knows more about her husband's affairs and whereabouts than she does herself. Mrs. Blake's voice was like a sharp-edged knife when she spoke again.

"I'm sure he is coming in," he told me that he would," she insisted. "Tell him that I called and want him to call me."

She hung up the receiver then, and Mary went back to her desk, wondering if she had made a mistake in telling Mrs. Blake that her husband had said he would not come in. It hardly seemed that he wouldn't want her to know what he was doing that day—she tried to concentrate on her work, but her thoughts kept going back to the Blakes. Mrs. Blake's voice had sounded vexed, almost angry.

Blake came in the next day, and brought up the subject at once.

"My wife telephoned you yesterday, she said, and you told her I'd called to Dayton on account of the illness of their daughter, Miss Mary, nurse at Miami Valley Hospital, who underwent an operation Monday morning.

Mr. Everest Hupman, West Carrollton, O., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hartsock, Mendon.

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have best cough medicine you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

In a pint bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup. Instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SECOND U. P. PASTOR HONORED BY CONGREGATION

Everything that would give a homelike atmosphere was arranged by congregation of the Second United Presbyterian Church, when the Rev. H. B. McElree, new pastor and his interesting family, were welcomed into the pastorate and among Xenia friends, at the church Tuesday evening.

Three hundred members of the church, their families and friends attended the reception. Main auditorium and class rooms of the church had been tastefully arranged with floor lamps which cast a soft glow over the scene and bowls and baskets of flowers.

Guests were received in the auditorium by the Rev. and Mrs. McElree and their family, elders of the church and their wives. Mr. P. P. Hastings, chairman of the congregation, presided over the program which followed the reception. A delightful musical program was in charge of Miss Martha Anderson and consisted of a solo by Mr. Fred Collins, duet by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Anderson; reading by Miss Helen Bradford; piano solo by Miss Margaret Moorehead and a woman's sextette.

The company then adjourned to the dining room, where refreshments were served. Table decorations and menu were appointed in green and white suggestive of St. Patrick's day.

Mr. Hastings introduced the various heads of departments in the church, who extended welcome to the new pastor's family. Mrs. Frank Routhon represented the Ladies' Aid Society; Mr. Weir Cooper, the congregation; Mrs. J. M. Bull, the missionary society; Miss Mary Eleanor Bickett, the Young Women's Missionary Society; Miss Margaret Ballantyne, Young People's Society; Little Paul McClellan, the Junior department; the Rev. V. E. Trinity M. E. Church, the Xenia Ministerial Association and Mrs. J. Harry Nagley, superintendent of the Sunday School, who was unable to attend.

The Rev. Mr. McElree responded with fitting words on behalf of the family. Remainder of the evening was spent in an informal "get-acquainted" social time.

PRESBYTERIAN RUTH GUILD MEETS MONDAY

Ruth Guild, Presbyterian Church held an interesting and social meeting at the home of Mrs. George P. Tiffany, Tuesday evening, with Miss Josephine Armstrong and Mrs. Harry Richards acting as assistant hostesses.

After the business of the society was transacted a chapter in the study book was presented by Miss Madge Cooley and Mrs. Ralph Wead. Mrs. Richards presented an interesting paper and Mrs. Erikine Winter told of Chile and its missions.

A birthday cake, bearing eleven candles, in celebration of the eleventh birthday of the Guild, was a feature of the refreshment course. Candles were extinguished by the president, Mrs. Paul D. Espey.

REHEARSALS BEGUN FOR P-T-A. PLAY

Cast of "Sunbonnet Sue" home-talent play sponsored by Chi Beta Club, which is to be repeated by Orient Hill P-T-A. next Thursday night at Jean B. Elwell Auditorium, has begun rehearsals for the play.

Mr. Harry Shannon, who directed the play before its first appearance, has donated her services for the second presentation. Members of Orient Hill P-T-A. are making an effort for a large seat sale, to obtain funds to carry on work of the organization.

"Sunbonnet Sue" was appreciated by a large audience. Its introduction in Xenia and those who did not see it the first time are expected to attend the coming performance.

he pleaded guilty to illegal possession of liquor.

He was arrested Tuesday night in a raid on his home by Patrolmen Fred Jones, Charles Thompson and George Spencer. Raiders reported they confiscated a quart bottle partially filled with whiskey. Other empty bottles were also found.

HUSBAND INDOLENT WIFE DECLARES IN DIVORCE PETITION

Refusal to accompany her any place except to a funeral once in a while, refusal to provide a bed, bedroom or bed clothing compelling her to sleep on a couch in the dining room, and failure to furnish common necessities of life to make a home comfortable and decent, are some of the charges made by Mrs. Bertha Shoup Putterbaugh in her suit for divorce from John Franklin Putterbaugh, Sugar Creek Township, filed in Common Pleas Court.

Mrs. Putterbaugh accuses her husband of being "indolent, indifferent and miserly, spending his time in quiet and dense solitude."

He also fails to provide clothes for her or furnish money to buy clothing, she avers.

Plaintiff alleges that although there are eight rooms in the house and four bedrooms, only room furnished with bed and bedding is that in which defendant's son sleeps.

The couple was married January 22, 1919. Plaintiff seeks divorce, alimony and restoration to her former name of Mrs. Bertha Shoup. Defendant has $20,000 or $25,000 in personal securities and a 217-acre farm with equipment, petition recites.

THREE FIRMS MOVE TO NEW LOCATIONS

Removal of the Charles S. Kuntz Co., tobacco jobbers, from the former location of the company on S. Whiteman St., to the George Dice building, next door, was completed Tuesday.

Carl A. Anderson, who purchased the building occupied by the tobacco company some time ago, completed removal of the Anderson Rent-A-Car Service from the Eagles Bldg., N. Whiteman St., to his own building, at the same time.

The Kuntz Company now occupies the room recently used as the interior furniture division of the Fred F. Graham Co., which will be used both as warehouse and sales office. Jacoby and Lang, Chevrolet agents, who are occupying a sales room on Green St., have rented the room vacated by Anderson in the Eagles Bldg., to be used as a storeroom.

Attorney J. A. Finney has filed a deed of assignment to him from Jacob Colp, this city, owner of the New York Sample Store, Piqua, and Xenia Sample Store, in Probate Court transferring all holdings to be held in trust for benefit of creditors.

He filed $3,000 bond which was approved by the court, and upon application of the assignee, Adolph Moser, Isadore Friedman and Alton Haines were named appraisers.

Mr. Colp has operated the branch store at Piqua for the past year and has been proprietor of the Xenia establishment for nearly four years.

He suffered a loss estimated at $10,000 when the Piqua store was damaged by fire in January this year. Loss consisted of stock and fixtures. An adjustment was made with the insurance companies.

Rather than comply with demands of a few individual creditors Mr. Colp decided to make an assignment to protect all creditors equally.

The Piqua store was closed and the stock has been removed to the Xenia store. Entire stock and fixtures of both stores will be appraised and probably sold at a private sale.

The township appraisers will meet with the auditor to receive the blanks that field work may be begun as soon as possible.

Similar procedure will be made with regard to villages when the various village appraisers are appointed. Recommendations for appointment of appraisers have not all been made to the auditor, he said.

APPRAISAL BLANKS TO BE ISSUED SOON

Distribution of appraisal blanks to field agents and various appraisers appointed to conduct the scheduled re-appraisal of all real estate in Greene County this year, will be made by County Auditor R. O. Wead Thursday.

The township appraisers will meet with the auditor to receive the blanks that field work may be begun as soon as possible.

Similar procedure will be made with regard to villages when the various village appraisers are appointed. Recommendations for appointment of appraisers have not all been made to the auditor, he said.

Duped in "Own-Your-Home" Scheme, Seventy Face Eviction

TRAGEDY lurks in the eviction order which hangs over the heads of ten families in a co-operative apartment in New York city—the tragedy of lost homes. Payment of $500 and $30 a month was agreed to by each of the families for the 100 shares of the corporation stock that would give them their own homes. Then a foreclosure was forced on a $4,000 mortgage of which the existence had not been mentioned. In the first picture is the Fogarty family. Mrs. Fogarty is feeding her apprehensive brood before going out to seek a new domicile, while in the second picture the heart-broken Mrs. Fogarty shows her "Own-your-home" contract to Mrs. A. Tranching, a helpful neighbor. In No. 3 is seen Pop Tranching getting a helping hand while he packs up the kiddies' toys.

FOUR ORDINANCES UP FOR PASSAGE AT COMMISSION MEET

Four ordinances introduced for their initial reading at the last regular meeting of City Commission are scheduled for passage at the commission meeting Thursday night.

Most important ordinance is that re-arranging the city traffic ordinance with addition of new sections. It combines all the old provisions, provides for observance of the alternating stop and go traffic regulating device at Main and Detroit Sts., authorizes the city manager to supply police with tags for motorists violating the traffic laws, and has a provision that police make a record of all accidents investigated.

Another ordinance regulating the closing time of all billiard and pool parlors and bowling alleys may also be passed. It provides these establishments shall remain closed between the hours of 11 p. m. and 6 a. m. except on Saturday when the closing time is from 12 p. m. to 6 a. m.

Third ordinance placed on its first reading granting the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. authority to construct, maintain and operate a switch track across Cincinnati Ave. on the south side of the main tracks of the company, will be placed on its second reading. Its passage is considered certain.

Ordinance providing that a fee of $1 be charged by the city for issuance of any permit or license will probably be passed.

STAVING OFF AGE

THE AVERAGE expectation of life in the United States and Canada is today five years longer than it was in 1913. Among the policy holders of a large life insurance company the expectation of life in this same period has been extended nine years, the four years difference being due to the fact that small children and the classes of adults having a high mortality rate are not insured.

This gradually lengthening span of life is due to the progress of medical and surgical science, improved sanitation, higher standards, health regulation and disease control. Health is improving, disease is decreasing, life is lengthening. This generation has a better chance to live long than any antecedent generation within the recorded time of man.

In this country one need no longer fear that once dread disease, typhoid. Inoculation will prevent it. There is no cause for children contracting diphtheria, for toxin-antitoxin treatments will safeguard them. Vaccination is a protection from smallpox. One by one, are the deadly diseases being conquered. In ten years the tuberculosis death rate has dropped fifty percent. Only five years ago the diphtheria death rate was higher than that today for diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough combined.

Privileged to live longer, society must now combat the disease peculiar to middle life and old age and reduce the accident death rate. The increasing death rate from such diseases of mature life as cancer, heart disorders and apoplexy is accounted for by the longer span of life.

SPRING BEGINS

IF THE SEASONS held a popularity contest, spring would always win.

Homemakers think of the wonderful flowers they are going to have. Automobile owners dream of swift speeding over flowing roads. Lovers of sport anticipate athletic prowess and the thrill of favorite games. Business men and farmers see money flowing in through a fruitful season. Beginnings are always more popular than endings, and looking ahead promotes more cheerfulness than looking backward.

Spring so stirs emotion that for many years the newspapers were overwhelmed with spring poetry. Many persons in Ohio ordinarily occupied with dishwashing or digging, all at once found themselves bursting forth into verse, often to the embarrassment of the editor. It's a great old time of year, and one feels that almost any piece of good luck could occur in such a season of promise.

WHAT PURPOSE ACCOMPLISHES

MISS BLITZ, dean of women of the University of Minnesota, said in a recent address that in her experience, the students who have a definite purpose for which they are working, and who come to a school in order to fit themselves for that particular occupation, come out better than those who have no such definite purpose in view.

Yet at the school and college age, it is difficult for young people to know what they want to go into. The majority do not feel conscious that they have any special talent.

One reason why many young people do not form any definite ambitions, is that their minds are concentrated on sports, pastimes, and having a good time generally. Their ambition has had no chance to form in their minds. They have not devoted enough thought to the problem of achievement so that they formulate any ideas as to what kind of achievement seems most possible.

Summer vacations give students a fine chance to try out different occupations. Some think only of the money they can earn at vacation employments. If they need the money to help pay their educational expenses, they do well to earn it at any honest work. But in so far as they can try out something that really interests them, they are helped in forming those definite purposes that the above educational authority referred to.

The value of purpose is not wholly in the studies that one takes bearing directly on the occupation one desires to follow. The knowledge gained is only a part of the preparation. But the people who have definite purposes from the habit of more earnest work, and they are not satisfied with mediocre achievement, so their power grows every year.

THE FLIVVER AND THE ELEPHANT

AN AMERICAN flivver, driven the other night through a jungle in the Dutch East Indies, was stopped by a baby elephant on the road. Blinded by the headlight, it refused to budge. The driver tried to prod the little beast out of the way but it stood its ground, bellowing piteously.

Then came a deep trumpeting, and the first thing that astonished driver knew, up rushed the mother elephant, seized that flivver and hurled it into a ditch, then disappeared with her baby in the jungle.

A picturesque yarn, illustrating how a lot of human parents would like to see automobiles treated occasionally in this country. An elephant might make a desirable addition to many a traffic squad.

LEHR FESS TEACHES BRAND NEW SOLONS

First aid to "rookie" Congressmen is being given by Lehr Fess, son of Senator S. D. Fess, Yellow Springs, parliamentary aide of the House.

Fess has turned schoolmaster. He is giving free instructions to a large class of House members, the patches from Washington say. The class meets twice a week—each Tuesday and Saturday morning. As right-hand man to Speaker

Nicholas Longworth and for five years previously to Speaker Frederick H. Gillett, Fess qualifies as an expert on congressional procedure, parliamentary practice and all the intricacies of legislating. Moreover, he has abundant teaching talent, inherited from his parents, who both passed a good share of their lives teaching.

CITY GETS CHECK

BRIDGEPORT, March 10—(UP)—The city received a check today from a bonding company for $38,875.25, covering the municipal debt in Dollar Savings Bank, which was closed by action of its last month.

THE HEALTH-GIVING OYSTER

The average family does not serve oysters frequently enough. And often its fish is improperly cooked when it does appear on the home table. Five minutes is the limit for cooking oysters in a stew. Scalloped oysters require a slightly longer period. Here are two good recipes:

Oyster Stew: Clean one quart of oysters, after draining them from their liquor, by placing them in a colander and pouring a small amount of cold water through them. Now heat their liquor to the boiling point, strain it, and then cook the oysters in it till their edges begin to curl. Remove oysters with a skimmer, and put them in a tureen with one-fourth cup of butter, one teaspoon of salt and a pinch of pepper. Add oyster liquor, four cups of scalded sweet milk, and serve with crackers.

Scalloped Oysters: Mix together

one-half cup of fine, stale white-bread crumbs and one cup of cracker crumbs. This combination is preferable to all cracker crumbs, which produce a soggy mass. To this crumb-mixture add one-half cup of melted butter, and mix well over moderate heat. Now, in another saucepan, heat four tablespoons of oyster liquor, with four tablespoons of sweet milk, and season with salt and pepper to suit taste, and three drops of Worcestershire Sauce. Heat a shallow baking dish and into it put a layer of the crumbs. Cover with a layer of oysters (using one pint of oysters, in all, for this recipe). Add one-half of the amount of liquid, then follow with another crumb layer, a second oyster layer, er, the remainder of the liquid, and top with whatever crumbs are left. Never make more than two oyster-layers; for if three are used, the middle layer will not be cooked when the top and bottom layers are just right. By heating the various ingredients as well as the baking-dish, a part of the oven's work is done in advance. When this recipe is followed exactly, the actual period of baking should not exceed more than 20 minutes, in a hot oven.

When any variety of fish is over-cooked, it loses its delicate flavor—and an over-cooked oyster is particularly unappetizing and leathery. Many a person who enjoys oysters in their raw state (either on the half-shell or with a cocktail sauce) does not enjoy them cooked. The oyster is rich in the much-needed iron, and therefore deserves to be treated with the care we give to other beneficial foods.

A BEAUTY ARTIST

Simply look for beauty, find it and then live off it—and you, too, are a part of beauty. Life is made up of commonplace things. And beauty is not always dressed up or shown in color. It, too, is often made up in the commonplace. So that for you to become an artist means that you must know the way to simple, commonplace things.

To many of us come very divine and sublime moments when we seem to be lifted out of our places and times and held aloof. We don't have to worry about those times. They take care of themselves, for we are all abashed and live. It's when things settle and float down the stream, as water does, with no distinguishing character, that we must keep our eyes and mind and heart all keyed up.

Burns, Hudson, Bryant, Shelley, Keats, could see beauty where none but the inspired could. Because they kept the fires of beauty burning night and day in their hearts. There are those who seem to revel in unhappiness. And there are those who have every reason for being unhappy who revel in happiness.

Our point of view changes all. And if we feel beauty, we see beauty. And we see it in some of the most out of the way and unexpected places. A fallen tree, bereft of its leaves and with its limbs crumbling upon the ground, is beautiful.

Beautiful because it represents art which is life. A beauty artist is a rare human being—one worth knowing and one worth having for a friend. When you grow most alone in your inner life, then it is that an appreciation of the beauties of all life come to warm and cheer. If you have carried beautiful thoughts about you and performed beautiful acts toward others, then when you are lonely and silent in your most disturbed moments, you have a wealth of beauty on which you may live.

Dries right up!

If you just realized how easy it is to stop fiery, itching, burning eczema by simply building up the red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S., you wouldn't waste another minute trying to do it any other way. That's the only way to relieve irritated, broken out skin of any sort. You lack rich, red blood. Impurities are in your system. The blood is so weak it can't fight back and overcome the enemy, so the impurities break out through the skin. S. S. S. builds the blood back—builds millions of new red-blood-cells. Eczema dries right up. Boils, pimples, blackheads, ugly blotches and irritating rashes all disappear. Clear up your skin. Get S. S. S. All druggists sell it. The large bottle is more economical.

Concrete Pavements Prove Economy in Middletown

Property owners of Middletown, Ohio, are not guessing when they tell you that concrete street paving is a sound investment—a real economy.

They have had twelve years in which to get the real facts in dollars and cents.

Middletown's first concrete paving was laid in 1914. It is still brand new, as far as service goes.

And it has cost little or nothing for maintenance.

Naturally, this modern, permanent pavement stands up under heaviest traffic, is safe to drive on in any weather, and makes the whole community look more prosperous because of its clean, handsome appearance.

What Middletown has found out about concrete paving, your city can profit by, beginning with the first concrete pavement put down.

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy.

MODISH MITZI—Polly Is Converted To Will Power Too By JAY V. JAY

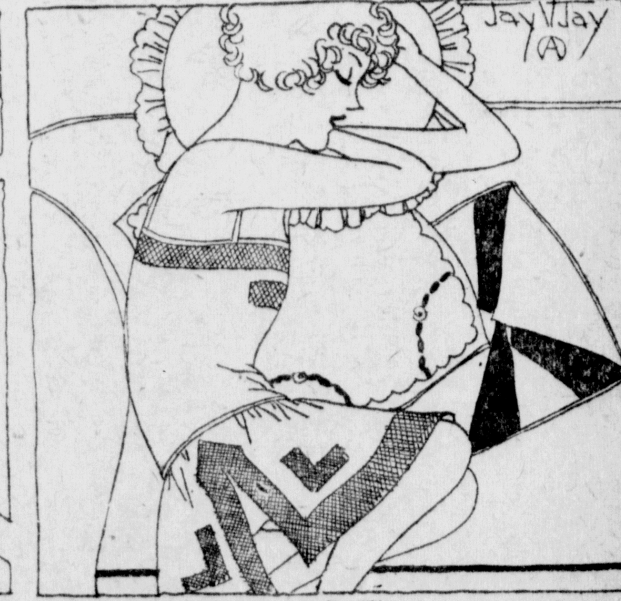

Nothing, in Polly's opinion, requires so much will power as getting up in the morning. That's why she began her course with early rising. If she can do this, she thinks, there's nothing wrong with her will power, and she won't have to study it. Admire her lacetrained nightgown—she won't mind.

It isn't much more than 6:30 now, and Polly is dressed for a brisk walk before breakfast. She wears a bolero frock of flat crepe, with a little underbust of printed crepe. The skirt is short and has inverted pleats, which show insets of the printed silk when she walks.

Over the dress goes a coat with a box-pleated cape. The coat is of tweed, as most smart toppers are this season, but it is tweed of a soft, smoky blue, and Polly has found a little felt hat to match it. The beauty of early morning has been much over-rated, in Polly's opinion.

Well, she did it! She got up at 6 o'clock and took a nice long walk before breakfast. She has even had her breakfast, and now with a clear conscience and dressed in a silk combination edged with net, Polly feels that no one could accuse her of being lazy if she just dozes off to sleep again.

BATH HIGH WINS THREE PLACES ON MYTHICAL ALL-STAR TEAM

Mythical all-county first and second teams, both boys and girls, in the Greene County Basketball Association League, have been compiled from a list of selections made by coaches and superintendents of the various teams in the league. Selections are made on a majority vote basis.

Bath Twp. High boys, who finished in third place, are accorded three places on the first all-star quintet, Ross Twp. High, runner-up, is given two places, and oddly Cedarville High, winners of the league championship, is not represented on the first team but has two places on the second team.

Yellow Springs girls, winners of the championship in the feminine loop, have three selections on the first all-county girls' team with Ross also being allotted three positions.

FRED SMITH NAMED CENTRAL CAPTAIN FOR NEXT SEASON

Fred "Bull Dog" Smith, junior, will guide the destinies of Central High School's basketball team during the 1926-27 season.

Smith was practically unanimously elected to the captaincy for next season to succeed Howell Huston, this season's leader, at a vote taken by the letter men at the high school Wednesday morning. Huston will be available next season.

Fred served his first season on the Central basketball quintet playing a guard position under Coach Vic Kolb's mentoring, and was one of the outstanding members of the team. He was one of the leaders in individual scoring and played a prominent part in every victory of the local team.

He also made the Central football eleven in his junior year, playing a full back position, and is considered one of the best all-around athletes ever produced at the E. Church St. school.

QUOIT CLUB ROLLS RECORD TEAM SCORE IN BOWLING MATCH

Quoit Club bowlers ended their regular season in the Xenia Bowling League by covering themselves with glory in a match game with the Bayliffs Tuesday night in which the second-placers won the three games.

Two of the all-time records in the league were shattered. Quoit Club rolled a three-game total of 3,044, establishing what is believed to be the best mark ever reached by a five-man team in Xenia's bowling history. It easily exceeds the former league record of 2,933 set by Bob's Tires.

Second mark to be set was for high single game. Winners rolled 1,107 in their middle brush topping the previous record set by the Dice Brothers Lumber Co. team of 1,023.

Bayliffs rolling in their best form of the season, amassed a total of 2,836 pins but failed to win a game.

In rolling their huge count, three of the Quoit maple pushers bettered the 600 mark. Donley led the parade with 645, followed by Smith with 642, Short with 614, Wagner, 589 and White, 554. Leahy rolled 604 and B. Dice 623 to top the Bayliffs' attack.

Box score:
Bayliffs:
Free 212 207 178
Leahy 201 220 183
Whittington 153 189 163

ANTIOCH TEACHER HEARD IN DAYTON

Professor Edward Mathews, head of the shoe research department at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, was one of the principal speakers when more than 250 retail shoe salesmen from Dayton and surrounding counties were guests of their employers at a dinner meeting at the Gibbons Hotel in Dayton Tuesday night.

Topic pertaining to retail selling was discussed by the Antioch professor, who has done unusual work in developing a hygienic, beautiful shoe for women, after long experimentation and planning.

Meeting was held for purpose of discussing better methods of selling and properly fitting shoes. Delegations were present from Xenia, Greenville, Franklin, Springfield and Richmond.

HURT IN FALL

While enroute to Kenton, O., for a visit, Mrs. Clarence Fulkerson, Springfield, was painfully injured when she fell over a traveling case in the Dayton depot, a few days ago. She was able to continue her trip but has been in bed since arriving in Kenton. No bones were broken but her injuries were severe. Mr. Fulkerson received bruises when he fell from a pole while trimming trees at his farm near Spring Valley, Wednesday morning.

St. Evangelist Miss Sadie Hawthorne from Chicago, will preach Thursday and Friday nights. Come and hear her.

RAILROAD OBJECTS TO EXTENSION PLAN OF OSBORN BUS LINE

Charging his application is, in reality, a plan for consolidation of two certificates—from Osborn to Dayton, and Washington C. H. to Xenia—with an application pending before the commission for extension of his bus line from Xenia to Osborn, The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co. filed a protest Tuesday in Columbus objecting to the application of Carl E. Pent for permission from the Ohio Public Utilities Commission to increase equipment and establish through schedule of busses between southeastern Ohio cities.

If Pent's application is granted by the commission through service would be established from Dayton to Osborn and Xenia to Washington C. H. to the detriment of existing transportation lines, the B. and O. contends.

Pent's application was given a hearing by the commission last week, and the railroad was permitted to file protest. Case was taken under advisement.

Same permission to file a protest was granted to J. H. McClure, receiver for the I. C. and E. railway. McClure filed an objection against the bus operator being allowed to extend his route from Xenia to Osborn, change time schedule and add new equipment.

Complaintant points out the I. C. and E. is giving hourly transportation service between Dayton and Osborn, and that through bus service is unnecessary.

Mothers, Do This—

When the Children Cough, Rub Musterole on Throats and Chests

No telling how soon the symptoms may develop into croup, or worse. And then's when you're glad you have a jar of Musterole at hand to give prompt relief. It does not blister.

As first aid, Musterole is excellent. Keep a jar ready for instant use.

It is the remedy for adults, too. Relieves sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Says He Felt Drunk

Most of the Time

Brooklyn. Mr. Fred G. Marquart writes:—"I felt drunk most of the time. My head was dizzy. I couldn't think clearly. One day I dropped a coin and when I stooped to get it I got so dizzy I almost fell. I later found out that the cause of this condition was constipation. This was overcome by a short course of Carter's Little Liver Pills. My appetite has doubled, and my dizziness has entirely left me." Carter's Little Liver Pills move the bowels and relieve the system of its poisonous matter. Druggists, 25 & 75¢ red packages

PERFECT SWOOP from a plane skimming along at seventy-five miles an hour was accomplished for this photo by R. E. McLeod, aviation rigger of the navy, stationed at Honolulu. His parachute eased him to the ground safely.

MANY YEARS BACK, some gent wrote a book on the fifteen greatest battles of the world. After Monday night this volume became obsolete when Stanislaus Loayza, fighting son of Chile, bested Phil McGraw, the pugnacious Greek, of Detroit, in the best ten-round affray ever witnessed in New York city, and as far as I know, in the world. Every scene of the battle was a thriller, for there wasn't a let-up all the way. On the left, Loayza (left) and McGraw (right) both stumble during furious mix-up in the fourth round. Right-hand view shows McGraw down in the seventh round.

A royal armada of ten airplanes is being prepared in Spain to carry King Alfonso XI, his queen and members of the court to South America for a visit intended to cement friendship of Spanish-speaking people of the two worlds. The route laid out for the armada is the same followed by Commander Franco in making the first flight across the southern Atlantic recently. Franco is to head the expedition. No Spanish sovereign has visited the continent Columbus happened on while flying the flag of Ferdinand and Isabella. Photo shows Columbus' flagship, the king and queen of Spain and Señor Franco.

A rum trust which has been operating extensively in Omaha, Neb., and Sioux City and Des Moines, in Iowa, is believed to have been broken up by seizure of a gigantic distillery near Ida Grove, Ia. Equipment worth $40,000, with a weekly output of 2,000 gallons of "whiskey" was captured in the building shown above, formerly a hog shed. Other photo shows raiders and some of their haul. Several railroad cars were necessary to bring in all of the layout.

"Not Possible To Classify" By Mack Sauer

"Memorial Day will soon be here, and I want an epitaph for my husband's tombstone. What do you suggest?" writes Mrs. Selma Brown of Bellbrook. Well, I'll try anything once. How's this sound?

Beneath this rock
Is Dooley Drown,
Who said you can't
Keep a good man down?

While we're at it, maybe it would be wise to have a number of epitaphs. I can think of nothing finer than this for my own tombstone.

Flat on his back
Lies old Mack Sauer,
He called for cider
To the very last hour.

One old one-I have heard many times, and which most of you have too, goes in this manner of words, saying:

"Little Willie, in the best of shashes,
Fell into the fire and was burned to ashes;
By and by the room grew chilly,
But no one came to stir up Willie.

And then there was that old familiar ballad from the widow, who had been ferrihly henpecked in his wives day. Her epitaph read this way:

Beneath this rock
Is my wife, F.I.,
She's now at rest
And so am I.

Was your husband fond of his eats? Did he live to eat? If so, and you are worrying over what to use for an epitaph, why not try this?

Here lies the body
Of Henry Caff;
Our grocery bill's
Now cut in half.

Went to Dayton the other night to see a show and one of the acts was "The Dance of the Seven Veils." It seems the lady forgot five of the veils. What's the world coming to? Of course that's what one gets for going to Dayton to see a show. He should stay right here at home.

THE NOSER
There is a freak who lives to sneak
Along the Pathway of Man,
Where'er he goes
He sticks his nose
In our business, if he can.

The Atlas Hotel tells of a chap calling the other day wanting to make reservations for a party of men. "How many covers?" asked the manager. "H—," said the patron, "I am not going to put the party to bed. I'm going to feed them. I want ten plates."

THE RUBBER NECK
You'll find him standing on the street
Observing women, trim and neat;
While his wife at home is on her knees
In worn out rags he never sees.
—I. Will Tellum.

KIWANIANS ENJOY
DINNER IN DAYTON
AS SURPRISE PARTY

Instead of the usual dinner meeting in Xenia, local Kiwanians met at the Greene County Automobile Club headquarters, Tuesday evening, without any knowledge of what the evening's program had in store for them.

Machines were provided for club members for the trip to Dayton, where the entire company was entertained at a banquet, at the Gibbons Hotel, arranged by the membership committee, hosts of the evening.

Director Myers, Dayton, as a final surprise of the evening, a theater party was arranged at Keith's. Forty-seven club members attended the party and voted the evening one of the most enjoyable of the club year.

The cashier is making an investigation of his accounts at the request of the family. Members of the family have retained a Xenia attorney to represent them, it is said.

Property of the two elevators is expected to be turned over to Mr. Fisher to pay creditors. It has been learned from an authoritative source Mr. Earley's unsecured claims amounted to nearly $4,000 or $5,000, mostly held by a group of farmers in the county for grain sold.

As Earley's property holdings are not believed sufficient to liquidate his outstanding debts, next step in straightening out his affairs and settling with creditors, will probably be appointment of a receiver, Mr. Fisher said.

Constant worry over his financial affairs may have influenced his action in the belief of Charles M. Burr, Jamestown, his brother-in-law.

Early was supplied with money when he left home for he cashed a check on The Farmers and Traders Bank for $150 with M. H. Klatt, Jamestown butcher, early Monday morning. The account was found to be overdrawn and the check was worthless Klatt learned at the bank.

John Jenks, owner of the building in which Earley conducted his New Jasper grain elevator, declared Tuesday the lease on the property expires in April this year. Early had purchased the elevator building at Rosemont from Andy Dwyer a year ago.

Mrs. Earley is almost prostrated with grief relatives and friends say while the entire family is laboring under a great mental strain. Eldon, elder son, who is a student at a Cincinnati law school, returned home when notified of his father's disappearance. The young son, Niel, 6, pupil in the first year grade school, has contracted an illness adding to the burden of the household.

Residents of Jamestown are alive to the mystery and a general air of expectancy pervades the town. Earley's action has awakened the hitherto peaceful community and persistent rumors entirely without confirmation are on everybody's lips.

The community has been shocked by the disappearance of one of their most prominent citizens. Earley was a prominent citizen and his wife was well known socially, it is said.

Intention of going away to seek work. Full contents of the note were not been revealed, but Mrs. Earley is said to have had a premonition of bad news and refused to open the note herself.

Herbert T. Fisher, cashier of the Bowersville Bank, received a letter from Earley Tuesday noon postmarked in Dayton directing him to straighten up his financial affairs.

Mr. Fisher said Earley evidently tried to make an assignment but failed by not filling out the proper papers. The cashier is making an investigation of his accounts at the request of the family. Members of the family have retained a Xenia attorney to represent them, it is said.

Property of the two elevators is expected to be turned over to Mr. Fisher to pay creditors. It has been learned from an authoritative source Mr. Earley's unsecured claims amounted to nearly $4,000 or $5,000, mostly held by a group of farmers in the county for grain sold.

As Earley's property holdings are not believed sufficient to liquidate his outstanding debts, next step in straightening out his affairs and settling with creditors, will probably be appointment of a receiver, Mr. Fisher said.

Constant worry over his financial affairs may have influenced his action in the belief of Charles M. Burr, Jamestown, his brother-in-law.

Early was supplied with money when he left home for he cashed a check on The Farmers and Traders Bank for $150 with M. H. Klatt, Jamestown butcher, early Monday morning. The account was found to be overdrawn and the check was worthless Klatt learned at the bank.

John Jenks, owner of the building in which Earley conducted his New Jasper grain elevator, declared Tuesday the lease on the property expires in April this year. Early had purchased the elevator building at Rosemont from Andy Dwyer a year ago.

Mrs. Earley is almost prostrated with grief relatives and friends say while the entire family is laboring under a great mental strain. Eldon, elder son, who is a student at a Cincinnati law school, returned home when notified of his father's disappearance. The young son, Niel, 6, pupil in the first year grade school, has contracted an illness adding to the burden of the household.

Residents of Jamestown are alive to the mystery and a general air of expectancy pervades the town. Earley's action has awakened the hitherto peaceful community and persistent rumors entirely without confirmation are on everybody's lips.

The community has been shocked by the disappearance of one of their most prominent citizens. Earley was a prominent citizen and his wife was well known socially, it is said.

RESIGNS AS HEAD OF CENTRE COLLEGE

Resignation of Dr. R. Ames Montgomery, as president of Centre College, Danville, Ky., was given to the board of trustees in Louisville, Ky., Tuesday.

Resignation of Dr. Montgomery, former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here, according to advisors from the college, brings to an end the strife that has existed between him and the student body for several months.

While the diminishing foothold glory of Centre repeatedly has been declared not to be the cause of ill feeling of the student body toward Dr. Montgomery, his unpopularity on the campus has increased in recent months. A petition from the student body asking that Dr. Montgomery be asked to resign as president and W. Hickman Carter, resign as business manager of the institution was presented to the board of trustees in December. Dr. Montgomery went to Danville as president of Centre in June, 1922.

ALIMONY SOUGHT BY WOMAN WHO ALLEGES MAN DESERTED HER

Louisa Byrd has brought suit for alimony in Common Pleas Court against William Byrd, Sr., and William Byrd, Jr., as guardian of William Byrd, Sr., alleging that her husband's guardian persuaded him to leave her.

They were married April 7, 1915, and her husband deserted her January 1, 1926, she claims, after he had been influenced to take such action by William Byrd, who had himself appointed her husband's guardian.

She alleges the guardian with-drew all money in a Xenia bank which was in the name of her husband and herself and published a notice in a Dayton newspaper that he would not be responsible for her debts, forcing her to turn to her son for food and fuel. Her husband has a one-half interest in a lot in Xenia and draws a pension of $72 per month, she avers.

The Telephone's Birthday

FIFTY years ago today a significant sentence was uttered. It was, "Mr. Watson, come here, I want you," and it was Alexander Graham Bell who spoke it. Those seven words, carried over a wire to the inventor's assistant, Thomas A. Watson, marked the real birth of the telephone.

Since that March day in 1876, the telephone has developed into one of the most vital factors in the country's life. Fifty years ago the telephone spoke one feeble sentence. Today 50,000,000 conversations are conducted daily over the lines of the Bell System connecting nearly 17,000,000 telephones.

The history of our country and of the telephone have been closely related during the last 50 years. In fact the telephone played an important part in the writing of that history.

Today, the telephone is aiding the country's business and social life as never before. The wheels of the great industrial organizations turn by its assistance and its aid is facilitating the transaction of the affairs of states, individuals and business enterprises. It stands ready day and night to meet whatever demands are made of it, whether to carry the message across the street or across the continent.

In this semi-centennial year The Ohio Bell Telephone Company looks forward to continued progress in telephonic communication.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Justice Department officials today were understood to be negotiating with counsel for the Ward Food Products corporation—$2,000,000 firm, charged with operating in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act for a dissolution consent decree.

Lodge Aids Private Inquiries For D. L. Earley—Receiver For Elevator May Be Asked—
Wife Is Prostrated

Private search for Daniel Lee Earley, 40, Jamestown, owner of grain elevators at Rosenoer, east of Jamestown, and at New Jasper, who disappeared from his home Monday, led to Cincinnati Wednesday.

It has been definitely established by Deputy Sheriff John Baughn that the missing man boarded a Pennsylvania train for Cincinnati early Tuesday from Dayton. Authorities are not investigating in their official capacity but are making inquiries at the request of the family.

Most definite clue concerning Earley's movements after being driven to Xenia Monday in a truck by an employee of the New Jasper mill at 8 o'clock, was furnished by A. F. Rudd, this city, who is employed in Dayton as a salesman for the Queen City Products Co.

ASSOCIATE OF BELL RECALLS MAKING OF
FIRST TELEPHONE

Interviewed By Long
Distance On 50th
Anniversary

TAMPA, Fla., Mar. 10.—Just fifty years ago today the first sentence ever transmitted by telephone carried faintly about seventy-five feet between Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor and his assistant, Thomas A. Watson.

Striking contrasts were drawn today when Watson, who constructed the world's first successful telephone from Bell's plan, commemorated the anniversary with a long-distance conversation with the United Press.

The first set was a two-person apparatus having only one way talking circuit.

"The world's first telephone sentence was a call for help," the 72-year-old experimenter said.

"Mr. Bell and I had been experimenting with rather unsatisfactory results for about nine months. On March 10, 1876, we were in our laboratory at No. 5 Exeter place, Boston, Mass., testing a new apparatus," he said.

"I was listening in another room about seventy-five feet from Mr. Bell," he continued.

"Suddenly I heard his voice saying very plainly, 'Watson, please come here, I want you.'"

"That was the first sentence ever transmitted. It was a call for help and I rushed down the hall to the room where my partner was experimenting. I found he had upset a galvanic battery and spilled acid all over his trousers.

"Bell forgot all about his trousers, however, when I told him how plainly I had heard his voice and he ran to the other room and I talked over our new telephone. It was a one way set and he could not answer so we took turns talking to each other."

The first conversation on an outdoor line, was on a wire two miles long between Boston and Cambridge, in October, 1877, Watson said.

"We thought that was wonderful but the development of the telephone and telegraph system since then was amazing to us."

Bell died in 1922.

The first telephones to be put into practical use were installed by Watson and Bell in Boston early in 1878.

"We put up about fifty lines from private houses to down town offices," Watson said. "Later we developed a central office or exchange."

Bell was twenty-seven years old and Watson twenty-two when the former invented the telephone. Bell received a small salary at Boston University and Watson was working in an electrical shop.

"We were living in rooms that cost 2 a week and our board came to $3.50," he said. "So you can see that we didn't have very much money."

Bell became acquainted with Watson when the former called at the electrical shop in 1874 to have a harmonic telegraph instrument made.

"I made all of Bell's apparatus for him," Watson said, "and constructed the world's first successful telephone from his plans."

Two other men were associated with Bell and Watson in their experiments, he said.

The work caused Watson to suffer a breakdown in 1881 and he quit the telephone business never to return. He entered the ship building industry and retired in 1904. Since then he has devoted his time to traveling and reading.

REPORT TROY DEATH SOLUTION NEAR BUT PROSECUTOR SILENT

Harvey Refuses To Deny
Rumor Which Involves Accomplice

TROY, O., March 10.—If predictions are borne out, an arrest will be made tomorrow night in connection with the Frances Drake Nesbitt murder mystery.

"I cannot deny there will be an arrest soon, but there is nothing we can give out at this time," Prosecutor Harvey told the United Press today, discussing rumors an arrest was imminent.

Reports here today insisted an arrest would be made—perhaps tomorrow—and that this action will pave the way for the apprehension of an accomplice who will be charged as "an accessory after the fact."

On the other hand, those in touch with the situation, insisted an arrest will not be made tomorrow, nor for several months or perhaps years.

Police Chief John Sharits continued investigating the now famous murder mystery today as did Ora Slater, special investigator from Cincinnati. Both were reported working along widely divergent lines.

Chief Sharits made a hasty trip to Union City yesterday. Upon his return he informed reporters he had discovered nothing that could be published.

Slater also had no report to make.

Prosecutor Harvey conferred with Special Prosecutor Alva Campbell and Detectives Foote and Wilcox.

CLEVELAND POLICE
TRANSFER PROBE OF MURDER TO SHERIFF

Information Turned Over
—Slaying Done Outside City

CLEVELAND, O., March 10.—Cleveland police today withdrew from investigation of the Sam Volpe murder, which began Sunday when the bullet riddled body of Volpe was found frozen in the snow in a secluded wood of Pepper Pike village.

Detective Inspector Cornelius Cody said investigation had convinced him the murder was committed in Cuyahoga County, outside the jurisdiction of Cleveland police.

All evidence held by police was turned over to the sheriff's office. Immediately following withdrawal of police, County Prosecutor Edward Stanton went into consultation with Deputy Sheriff Martinec.

Nunzio Ciravolo, companion of the slain man, was being held in Canton today for questioning. Two suspects were being held here. A third man picked up for questioning has been permitted to return to Canton.

Investigation of the mystery death is being carried along on two theories; that Volpe was slain by a bootleg ring or that he was slain because of attentions to a woman.

BACHELOR MURDERS

SUICIDE IS REPORT

Refusal To Marry Angers
Man Who Wields
Gun

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Mar. 10.—Dependent upon the refusal of pretty Mary Pogachio, 15-year-old schoolgirl, to marry him, Thomas W. Butler, 51, bachelor, shot the girl to death and then sent a bullet through his own head and died soon afterward.

The shooting took place at the Butler home, at Maynard, near here, where Mary had gone to prepare supper for Thomas and Joseph Butler, brothers.

According to police, Mary had been taking care of their house since the Butlers' sister died.

Anxious at the girl's failure to return home last night, Mrs. Mike Pogachio, her mother, sent her brother to investigate. He found the dead girl in the kitchen. Police later found Butler, who died shortly afterward, still clutching a revolver in his hand.

An investigation will be conducted today by Coroner Clyde C. Hardesty.

ASKS COOLIDGE TO

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Charging President Coolidge "dare not, for political consideration, tell the country the plain truth about prohibition in a straight hewn New England way," Rep. Lorain Black, New York democrat, today called upon the chief executive to tell the country that the prohibition law cannot be enforced without modifications.

Coupled with this new wet move on the house side, came a novel proposal from Representative Andre Somers, Democrat, New York, for a congressional prohibition amendment.

He introduced a resolution calling for ballots which congressmen could distribute in their districts.

It was expected that Gov. Grosbeck of Michigan, would sign the extradition papers today and that the youthful brothers would be returned to Norwalk, near Havana tonight.

SUSPEND POLICE AS SEQUEL TO ARREST

CANTON, O., Mar. 10.—Captain Ben Clark, director of the Canton Bertillon bureau and four members of the police force were suspended today for thirty days without pay.

The suspensions were ordered by Safety Director James A. Wright, who charged Clark with insubordination and suspended the patrolmen as a "disciplinary measure."

The patrolmen were Floyd Streitenberger, Homer Moore, Star Bodenheimer and Joseph Metzger.

Wright's suspension, according to the ousting two weeks ago of Police Chief S. A. Longel, on a general charge of "inefficiency and incompetency."

The suspensions, it was said, grew out of the arrest of Fred Crankshaw, 40, a salesman and former Canton attorney, without a warrant.

Crashaw, according to Wright had been in Columbus investigating the allegations.

SCOFFS AT CLAIMS
ANIMAL LIFE CREATED

LORAIN, O., March 10.—Prof. Francis Herrick, head of Western Reserve biology department, and distinguished scientist, today scoffed at the claims of J. E. Mazur, Lorain bacteriologist, that he has, and can, create animal and vegetable life by artificial means.

So positive is Herrick that the Lorain man has made no remarkable discovery that he does not even care to look over the apparatus used, he told a reporter of the United Press.

"I have talked over with Mazur his experiments and I am convinced beyond the slightest doubt that any life he has brought forth is the result of contaminated apparatus as has been the case of many other bacteriologists who thought they had made discoveries."

Mazur had really anything remarkable to offer to the scientific world, the school where he received his training would jump at the chance to support him. It wouldn't for a moment let the discovery slip through its fingers.

"Scientists have been actively at work for more than sixty years attempting to create life by un-natural phenomena. If the discovery is ever made you can be sure that it will not be by some individual working off to himself somewhere."

Illegal

CLEVELAND, O., Mar. 10.—Solomon L. Long, 74, head of the "College of Anatomical Science," indicted yesterday by the county grand jury on charges of having issued a false medical diploma, announced today that he would give himself up to county authorities.

The indictment charges that on December 30, 1923, he issued a diploma to W. M. Wohl, conferring upon him the degree of "Doctor of Anatomical Science."

Long's indictment was the result of a three months investigation conducted by Mrs. Anna Dietrich and her son, Lawrence, inspectors for the state medical board.

Long has been conducting his "college" in Cleveland for the past three years. Prior to coming here he operated a school in Port Wayne, Ind.

Long, who was born in Virginia and raised in Texas, emphatically denies Mrs. Dietrich's charges that he is in violation of the law in conducting his school.

Bell became acquainted with Watson when the former called at the electrical shop in 1874 to have a harmonic telegraph instrument made.

"I made all of Bell's apparatus for him," Watson said, "and constructed the world's first successful telephone from his plans."

Two other men were associated with Bell and Watson in their experiments, he said.

LORAIN, O., March 10.—Accompanied by Sheriff Fred Underhill, Mrs. Stella Kaiser, pretty middle-aged woman accused of killing her husband, Harvey Kaiser, following an all-night party, attended funeral services for her husband here last night.

TO RETURN BLANKET INDICTMENT AFTER CONSPIRACY PROBE

Expect 125 Will Be Named By Federal
Grand Jury

CLEVELAND, March 10.—A blanket indictment, said to be unique in the history of the federal district court of Ohio, is expected to be returned Friday by the Federal Grand Jury, as the result of four weeks searching investigation of the Superior Alcohol Company.

Upwards of 125 persons will be named in the indictment, fifty of whom are already under arrest, it was said.

"The brains" of the huge alcohol ring described in the true bill are located in Philadelphia, and the others involved in the case, reside in twelve cities scattered throughout the country. The alleged master minds, together with their chief lieutenant, the jury learned, have become millionaires within the short span of two years.

Not only will this document hint of the gigantic flow of alcohol direct from government distilleries into bootleg channels, but will expose a tremendous wave of alleged corruption which immersed railroad and government employees.

Light is expected to be thrown on murders committed as the result of illicit traffic of booze in this large sized indictment being completed by E. E. Bernstein, federal district attorney and his assistants.

Several hundred witnesses have been called during the last few weeks, including bankers, distillers, life convicts, high railroad officials, department of justice and prohibition enforcement employees, as well as municipal judges, prosecutors and policemen, who have told what they know of the alleged conspiracy to the grand jury.

ASK DISMISSAL OF
FOREMAN OF JURY

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 10.—Dismissal of the foreman of the jury that is to try David L. Marshall, chiropractor, for the murder of Anna May Dietrich, was looked for today.

A sensational revelation that Joseph Mooney, 46, a sub-contractor, the first juror chosen in the trial, was an acquaintance of Abraham Wernick, Marshall's counsel, was laid before Judge McDevitt, presiding at the trial, shortly before adjournment yesterday.

Court was immediately adjourned and a heated argument between the opposing counsel on the competency of Mooney as a juror, was carried on in the judge's ante-chamber.

Since only eight jurors have been chosen thus far, it is believed District Attorney Charles Edwin Fox will challenge Mooney today and the challenge will be allowed.

It is presumed that Baldwin's statement was made on the latest advice from Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary at Geneva.

SMALL SIZED BILLS ARE BEING PLANNED BY MINT OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Substitution of a bill about two-thirds the size of the present currency is under consideration by a special Treasury Department committee, according to Herbert D. Brown, Chief of the Bureau of Efficiency.

Brown said the committee was studying the possibility of issuing currency about the same size as that used in the Philippine Islands, in place of that now in circulation.

The average life of government money, according to Brown, has increased to 10 months of late. About a year ago it averaged seven months.

"The life of notes of smaller denominations," said Brown, "is very much shorter than those of larger denominations because they are in more active use. A hundred dollar bill would last almost indefinitely, because it has less use."

Because of inferior paper and inability of chemicals to stand up, Brown said the Treasury had abandoned the practice of washing currency.

XVI—THE WAYS OF A MAN

MARY was not a little disturbed by Celia's comments on Stanley Blake. "But then, what's a wife between friends? That man's going to have a lot of money some day."

Was Celia the kind of girl who'd go around with married men, without their wives? Evidently she was. Mary didn't like that.

The girls she'd been brought up with never did it. Once a man was married he belonged to his wife. Why, Celia didn't even know Mrs. Blake!

Celia wasn't turning out at all the way Mary had expected her to. "Of course, I didn't really know her at all when we decided to live together," Mary reminded herself. "We were absolutely strangers, only I liked her so well, and it seemed as if we'd be so congenial."

She still liked Celia, for that matter. Celia was usually bright and cheerful, she took a genuine interest in helping Mary to dress more becomingly, and do her hair more fashionably; they had a lot of fun over their housekeeping.

But Celia was deceitful in little things. She'd say she had dusted the living-room while Mary did dishes, for instance, and then Mary would lift a newspaper and find the table beneath it covered with dust. She'd say she had dried the dishes, when it was her turn to clean up after dinner, and Mary would find that she had put them away wet, counting on their being dry by morning.

Mary had heard her decide to Mrs. Lindsay, their landlady, that she had scrubbed the bathtub after her morning bath, when Mary knew she hadn't.

And she had a nasty temper, that flared up over little things and made her say ugly things. She'd make up beautifully afterward, of course, and Mary told herself that Celia really didn't mean to be disagreeable, but sometimes it was hard not to feel hurt.

She saw little of Stanley Blake during the next few days: one day he merely phoned, and did not come into the office at all. Early that afternoon his wife called the office and asked for him.

"He isn't in," Mary replied.

"But—are you sure? I know that he expected to be at the office at two o'clock."

"He isn't here," Mary told her again, speaking as politely as she could. "I'll ask him to call you if he does come in? He phoned that he wouldn't be here today."

She could not realize that a woman who is kept at home hates to feel that some other woman knows more about her husband's affairs and whereabouts than she does herself. Mrs. Blake's voice was like a sharp-edged knife when she spoke again.

"I'm sure he is coming in," he told me that he would," she insisted. "Tell him that I called and want him to call me."

She hung up the receiver then, and Mary went back to her desk wondering if she had made a mistake in telling Mrs. Blake that her husband said he would not come in. It hardly seemed that he wouldn't want her to know what he was doing that day—she tried to concentrate on her work, but her thoughts kept going back to the Blakes. Mrs. Blake's voice had sounded vexed, almost angry.

Blake came in the next day, and brought up the subject at once.

"My wife telephoned you yesterday, she said, and you told her I'd called to Dayton on account of the illness of their daughter, Miss Mary, nurse at Miami Valley Hospital, who underwent an operation Monday morning.

Mr. Everest Hupman, West Carrollton, O., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hartsock, Monday.

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have best cough medicine you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

SECOND U. P. PASTOR HONORED BY CONGREGATION

Everything that would give a home-like atmosphere was arranged by congregation of the Second United Presbyterian Church, when the Rev. H. B. McElree, new pastor, and his interesting family, were welcomed into the pastorate and among Xenia friends, at the church Tuesday evening.

Three hundred members of the church, their families and friends attended the reception. Main auditorium and class rooms of the church had been tastefully arranged with floor lamps which cast a soft glow over the scene and bowls and baskets of flowers.

Guests were received in the auditorium by the Rev. and Mrs. McElree and their family, elders of the church and their wives. Mr. F. Hastings, chairman of the congregation, presided over the program which followed the reception. A delightful musical program was in charge of Miss Martha Anderson and consisted of a solo by Mr. Fred Collins; duet by Mr. and Mrs. W. Anderson; reading by Miss Helen Bradfrute; piano solo by Miss Margaret Moorehead and a woman's sextette.

The company then adjourned to the dining room where refreshments were served. Table decorations and menu were appointed in green and white suggestive of St. Patrick's day.

Mr. Hastings introduced the various heads of departments in the church, who extended welcome to the new pastor's family. Mrs. Frank Rountz represented the Ladies Aid Society. Mr. W. Cooper, the congregation; Mrs. J. M. Bull, the missionary society; Miss Mary Eleanor Bickett, the Young Women's Missionary Society; Miss Margaret Ballantyne, Young People's Society; Little Paul McClellan, the junior department; the Rev. V. F. Brown, Trinity M. E. Church, the Xenia Ministerial Association and Mrs. J. Harry Nagley who took the place of Mr. Nagley, superintendent of the Sunday School, who was unable to attend. The Rev. Mr. McElree responded with fitting words on behalf of the family. Remainder of the evening was spent in an informal "get acquainted" social time.

PRESBYTERIAN RUTH GUILD MEETS MONDAY

Ruth Guild, Presbyterian Church held an interesting and social meeting at the home of Mrs. George P. Tiffany, Tuesday evening, with Miss Josephine Armstrong and Mrs. Harry Richards as assistant hostesses.

After the business of the society was transacted a chapter in the study book was presented by Miss Madge Cooley and Mrs. Ralph Wead. Mrs. Richards presented an interesting paper and Mrs. Erikine Winter told of Chile and its missions.

REHEARSALS BEGUN FOR P. T. A. PLAY

Cast of "Sunbonnet Sue" home-talent play sponsored by Chi Beta Club, which is to be repeated by Orient Hill P. T. A. next Thursday night at Jean B. Elwell Auditorium, has begun rehearsals for the play.

Mrs. Harry Shannon, who directed the play before its first appearance, has donated her services for the second presentation. Members of Orient Hill P. T. A. are making an effort for a large seat sale, to obtain funds to carry on work of the organization.

"Sunbonnet Sue" was appreciated by a large audience on its introduction in Xenia and those who did not see it the first time are expected to attend the coming performance.

GOOD SAMARITAN CLASS MEETS TUESDAY

Good Samaritan Class of the Friends Church met at the home of Mrs. Alora Peole, Home Ave., Tuesday. Business session was held, after which a short program of music and readings, followed by refreshments, was enjoyed.

Next meeting will be in honor of new members of the class.

He pleaded guilty to illegal possession of liquor.

He was arrested Tuesday night in a raid on his home by Patrolmen Fred Jones, Charles Thompson and George Spencer. Raiders reported they confiscated a quart bottle partially filled with whiskey. Other empty bottles were also found.

HUSBAND INDOLENT WIFE DECLARES IN DIVORCE PETITION

Refusal to accompany her any place except to a funeral once in a while, refusal to provide a bed, bedroom, bath, clothing, compelling her to sleep on a couch in the dining room, and failure to furnish common necessities of life to make a home comfortable and decent, are some of the charges made by Mrs. Bertha Shoup Putterbaugh in her suit for divorce from John Franklin Putterbaugh, Sugar Creek Township, filed in Common Pleas Court.

Mrs. Putterbaugh accuses her husband of being "indolent, indifferent and miserly, spending his time in quiet and dense solitude."

He also fails to provide clothes for her or furnish money to buy clothing, she avers.

Plaintiff alleges that although there are eight rooms in the house and four bedrooms, only room furnished with bed and bedding is in which defendant's son sleeps.

The couple was married January 22, 1919. Plaintiff seeks divorce, alimony and restoration to her former name of Mrs. Bertha Shoup. Defendant has $20,000 or $25,000 in personal securities and a 217-acre farm with equipment, petition recites.

Removal of the Charles S. Kuntz Co., tobacco jobbers, from the former location of the company on S. Whiteman St., to the George Dice building, next door, was completed Tuesday.

Carl A. Anderson, who purchased the building occupied by the tobacco company some time ago, completed removal of the Anderson Rent-A-Car Service from the Eagles Bldg., N. Whiteman St., to his own building, at the same time.

The Kuntz company now occupies the room recently used as the office furniture division of the Fred P. Graham Co., which will be used both as warehouse and sales office. Jacoby and Lang, Chevrolet agents, who are occupying a sales room on Green St., have rented the room vacated by Anderson in the Eagles Bldg., to be used as a storeroom.

Professor Edwin Zavitz of Antioch College, will address members of Troops No. 1 and 2 Boy Scouts of America, at a joint meeting at the American Legion rooms Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Scoutmaster R. H. Kingsbury urges parents of Scouts, former Scouts and all members of both troops to be present.

Slides showing life in a boys' camp, conducted by the Antioch professor in Minnesota every summer will be shown. One reel of motion pictures showing territory in Canada covered by a canoe trip the boys take, will be thrown on the screen.

Rather than comply with demands of a few individual creditors Mr. Colp decided to make an assignment to protect all creditors equally.

DUPED IN "OWN-YO UR-HOME" SCHEME, SEVENTY FACE EVICTION

TRAGEDY lurks in the eviction order which hangs over the heads of ten families in a co-operative apartment in New York City—the tragedy of lost homes. Payment of $500 and $30 a month was agreed to by each of the families for the 100 shares of the corporation stock that would give them their own homes. Then a foreclosure was forced on a $4,000 mortgage of which the existence had not been mentioned. In the first picture is the Fogarty family. Mrs. Fogarty is feeding her apprehensive brood. In No. 3 is seen Pop Franching getting a helping hand while he packs up the kiddies' toys.

FOUR ORDINANCES UP FOR PASSAGE AT COMMISSION MEET

Four ordinances introduced for their initial reading at the last regular meeting of City Commission are scheduled for passage at the commission meeting Thursday night.

Most important ordinance is that re-vamping the city traffic ordinance with addition of new sections. It combines all the old provisions, provides for observance of the alternating stop and go traffic regulating device at Main and Detroit Sts., authorizes the city manager to supply police with tags for motorists violating the traffic laws, and has a provision that police make a record of all accidents investigated.

Another ordinance regulating the closing time of all billiard and pool parlors and bowling alleys may also be passed. It provides these establishments shall remain closed between the hours of 11 p. m. and 6 a. m. except on Saturday when the closing time is from 12 p. m. to 6 a. m.

Third ordinance placed on its first reading granting the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., authority to construct, maintain and operate a switch track across Cincinnati Ave., on the south side of the main tracks of the company, will be placed on its second reading. Its passage is considered certain.

Ordinance providing that a fee of $1 be charged by the city for issuance of any permit or license will probably be passed.

Attorney J. A. Finney has filed a deed of assignment to him from Jacob Colp, this city, owner of the New York Sample Store, Piqua, and Xenia Sample Store, Inc. Probate Court transferring all holdings to be held in trust for benefit of creditors.

He filed $3,000 bond which was approved by the court, and upon application of the assignee, Adolph Moser, Isadore Friedman and Alen Haines were named appraisers. Mr. Colp has operated the branch store at Piqua for the past year and has been proprietor of the Xenia establishment for nearly four years.

He suffered a loss estimated at $10,000 when the Piqua store was damaged by fire in January this year. Loss consisted of stock and fixtures. An adjustment was made with the insurance companies.

Rather than comply with demands of a few individual creditors Mr. Colp decided to make an assignment to protect all creditors equally.

STAVING OFF AGE

THE AVERAGE expectation of life in the United States and Canada is today five years longer than it was in 1913. Among the policy holders of a large life insurance company the expectation of life in this same period has been extended nine years, the four years difference being due to the fact that small children and the classes of adults having a high mortality rate are not insured.

This gradually lengthening span of life is due to the progress of medical and surgical science, improved sanitation, higher standards, health regulation and disease control. Health is improving, disease is decreasing, life is lengthening. This generation has a better chance to live long than any antecedent generation within the recorded time of man.

In this country one need no longer fear that once dread disease, typhoid. Inoculation will prevent it. There is no cause for children contracting diphtheria, for toxin-antitoxin treatments will safeguard them. Vaccination is a protection from smallpox. One by one, are the deadly diseases being conquered. In ten years the tuberculosis death rate has dropped fifty percent. Only five years ago the diphtheria death rate was higher than that today for diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough combined.

Privileged to live longer, society must now combat the disease peculiar to middle life and old age and reduce the accident death rate. The increasing death rate from such diseases of mature life as cancer, heart disorders and apoplexy is accounted for by the longer span of life.

SPRING BEGINS

IF THE SEASONS held a popularity contest, spring would always win.

Homemakers think of the wonderful flowers they are going to have. Automobile owners dream of swift speeding over flowing roads. Lovers of sport anticipate athletic prowess and the thrill of favorite games. Business men and farmers see money flowing in through a fruitful season. Beginnings are always more popular than endings, and looking ahead promotes more cheerfulness than looking backward.

Spring so stirs emotion that for many years the newspapers were overwhelmed with spring poetry. Many persons in Ohio ordinarily occupied with dishwashing or digging, all at once found themselves bursting forth into verse, often to the embarrassment of the editor. It's a great old time of year, and one feels that almost any piece of good luck could occur in such a season of promise.

WHAT PURPOSE ACCOMPLISHES

MISS BLITZ, dean of women of the University of Minnesota, said in a recent address that in her experience, the students who have a definite purpose for which they are working, and who come to a school in order to fit themselves for that particular occupation, come out better than those who have no such definite purpose in view.

Yet at the school and college age, it is difficult for young people to know what they want to go into. The majority do not feel conscious that they have any special talent.

One reason why many young people do not form any definite ambitions, is that their minds are concentrated on sports, pastimes, and having a good time generally. Their ambition has had no chance to form in their minds. They have not devoted enough thought to the problem of achievement so that they formulate any ideas as to what kind of achievement seems most possible.

Summer vacations give students a fine chance to try out different occupations. Some think only of the money they can earn at vacation employments. If they need the money to help pay their educational expenses, they do well to earn it at any honest work. But in so far as they can try out something that really interests them, they are helped in forming those definite purposes that the above educational authority referred to.

The value of purpose is not wholly in the studies that one takes bearing directly on the occupation one desires to follow. The knowledge gained is only a part of the preparation. But the people who have definite purposes from the habit of more earnest work, and they are not satisfied with mediocre achievement, so their power grows every year.

THE FLIVVER AND THE ELEPHANT

AN AMERICAN flivver, driven the other night through a jungle in the Dutch East Indies, was stopped by a baby elephant on the road. Blinded by the headlight, it refused to budge. The driver tried to prod the little beast out of the way but it stood its ground, bellowing piteously.

Then came a deep trumpeting, and the first thing that astonished driver knew, up rushed the mother elephant, seized that flivver and hurled it into a ditch, then disappeared with her baby in the jungle.

A picturesque yarn, illustrating how a lot of human parents would like to see automobiles treated occasionally in this country. An elephant might make a desirable addition to many a traffic squad.

LEHR FESS TEACHES BRAND NEW SOLONS

First aid to "rookie" Congressmen is being given by Lehr Fess, son of Senator S. D. Fess, Yellow Springs, parliamentarian of the House.

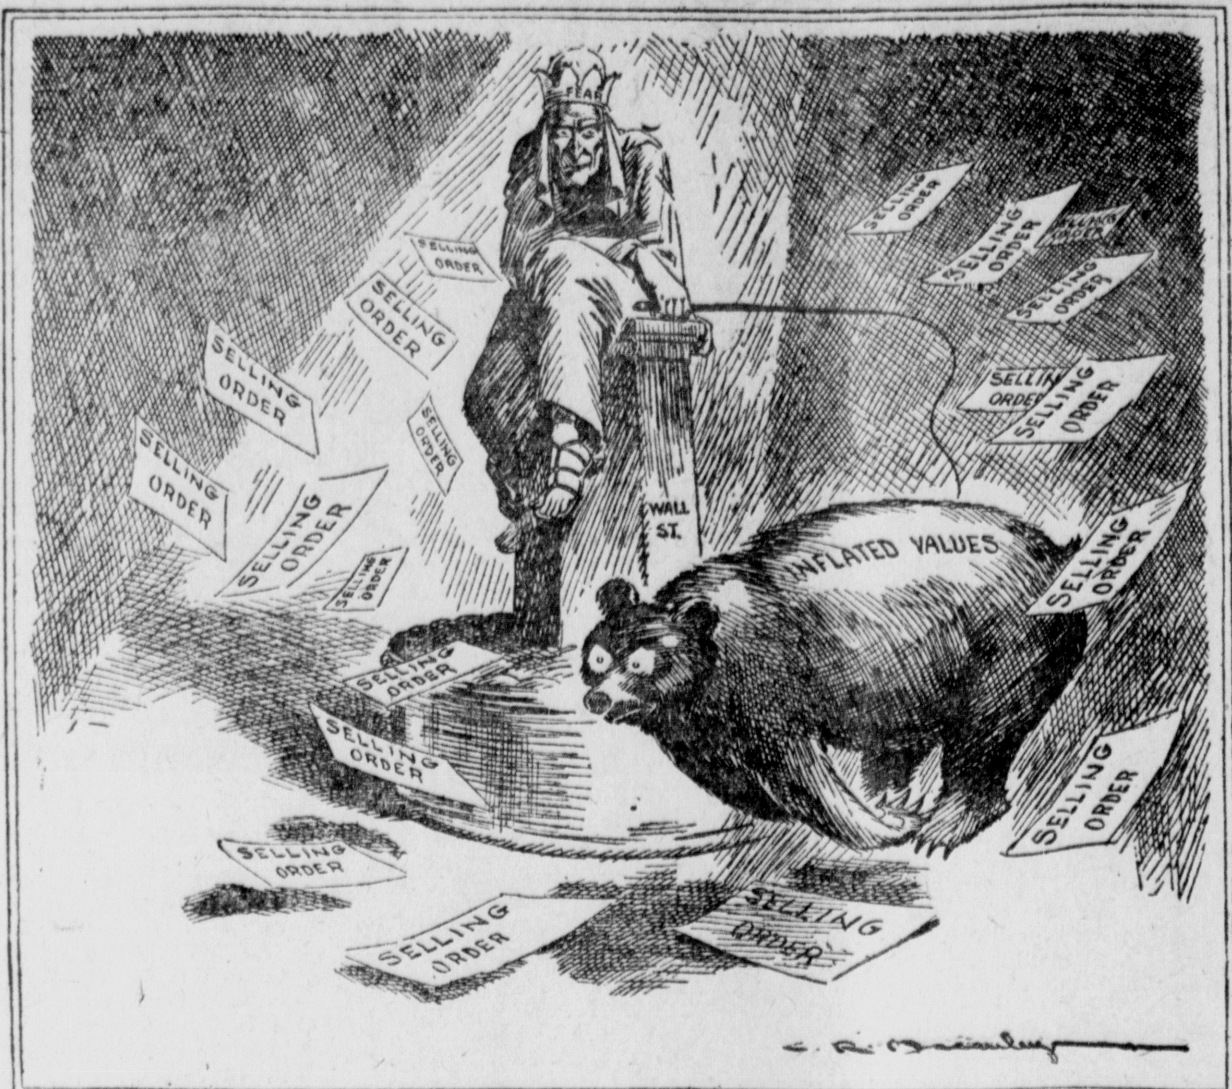

Fess has turned schoolmaster. He is giving free instructions to a large class of House members, dispatches from Washington say. The class meets twice a week—each Tuesday and Saturday morning. As right-hand man to Speaker

Nicholas Longworth and for five years previously to Speaker Frederick H. Gillett, Fess qualifies as an expert on congressional procedure, parliamentary practice and all the intricacies of legislating. Moreover, he has abundant teaching talent, inherited from his parents, who both passed a good share of their lives teaching.

THE HEALTH-GIVING OYSTER

The average family does not serve oysters frequently enough. And often this fish is improperly cooked when it does appear on the home table. Five minutes is the limit for cooking oysters in a stew. Scalloped oysters require a slightly longer period. Here are two good recipes.

Oyster Stew. Clean one quart of oysters, after draining them from their liquor, by placing them in a colander and pouring a small amount of cold water through them. Now heat their liquor to the boiling point, strain it, and then cook the oysters in it till their edges begin to curl. Remove oysters with a skimmer, and put them in a tureen with one-fourth cup of butter, one teaspoon of salt and a pinch of pepper. Add oyster liquor, four cups of scalded sweet milk, and serve with crackers.

Scalloped Oysters: Mix together

one-half cup of fine, stale white-bread crumbs and one cup of cracker crumbs. This combination is preferable to all cracker crumbs, which produce a soggy mass. To this crumb-mixture add one-half cup of melted butter, and mix well over moderate heat. Now, in another saucepan, heat four tablespoons of oyster liquor, with four tablespoons of sweet milk, and season with salt and pepper to suit taste, and three drops of Worcester Sauce. Heat a shallow baking dish and into it put a layer of the crumbs. Cover with a layer of oysters (using one pint of oysters, in all, for this recipe). Add one-half of the amount of liquid, then follow with another crumb layer, a second oyster layer, the remainder of the liquid, and top with whatever crumbs are left. Never make more than two oyster-layers; for if three are used, the middle layer will not be cooked when the top and bottom layers are just right. By heating the various ingredients as well as the baking-dish, a part of the oven's work is done in advance. When this recipe is followed exactly, the actual period of baking should not exceed more than 20 minutes, in a hot oven.

When any variety of fish is over-cooked, it loses its delicate flavor—and an over-cooked oyster is particularly unappetizing and leathery. Many a person who enjoys oysters in their raw state (either on the half-shell or with a cocktail sauce) does not enjoy them cooked. The oyster is rich in the much-needed iron, and therefore deserves to be treated with the care we give to other beneficial foods.

When any variety of fish is over-cooked, it loses its delicate flavor—and an over-cooked oyster is particularly unappetizing and leathery. Many a person who enjoys oysters in their raw state (either on the half-shell or with a cocktail sauce) does not enjoy them cooked. The oyster is rich in the much-needed iron, and therefore deserves to be treated with the care we give to other beneficial foods.

OLD STUFF

Last night an ancient book I read. Two hundred years ago Its author very plainly said The torch of hope burned low. Wrote he: "No comfort can I see For this sad, dreary world! Our glorious past is doomed to be Into destruction hurled."

"The beauty of our age lies dead. Our youth is pleasure mad;

A BEAUTY ARTIST

Simply look for beauty, find it and then live off it—and you, too, are a part of beauty.

Life is made up of commonplace things. And beauty is not always dressed up or shown in color. It, too, is often made up in the commonplace. So that for you to become an artist means that you must know the way to simple, commonplace things.

To many of us come very divine and sublime moments when we seem to be lifted out of our places and times and held aloof. We don't have to worry about those times. They take care of themselves, for we are all abreast and live. It's when things settle and float down the stream, as water does, with no distinguishing character, that we must keep our eyes and mind and heart all keyed up.

Burns, Hudson, Bryant, Shelley, Keats, could see beauty where none but the inspired could. Because they kept the fires of beauty burning night and day in their hearts.

There are those who seem to revel in unhappiness. And there are those who have every reason for being unhappy who revel in happiness.

Our point of view changes all. And if we feel beauty, we see beauty. And we see it in some of the most out of the way and unexpected places.

A fallen tree, bereft of its leaves and with its limbs crumbling upon the ground, is beautiful.

ful. Beautiful because it represents art which is life.

A beauty artist is a rare human being—one worth knowing and one worth having for a friend.

When you grow most alone in your inner life, then it is that an appreciation of the beauties of all life come to warm and cheer.

If you have carried beautiful thoughts about with you and performed beautiful acts toward others, then when you are lonely and silent in your most disturbed moments, you have a wealth of beauty on which you may live.

ECZEMA

Dries right up!

If you just realized how easy it is to stop fiery, itching, burning eczema by simply building up the red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S., you wouldn't waste another minute trying to do it any other way. That's the only way to relieve irritated, broken out skin of any sort. You lack rich, red blood. Impurities are in your system. The blood is so weak it can't fight back and overcome the enemy, so the impurities break out through the skin.

S. S. S. builds the blood back—builds millions of new red-blood-cells. Eczema dries right up. Boils, pimples, blackheads, ugly blotches and irritating rashes all disappear.

Clear up your skin. Get S. S. S. All druggists sell it. The large bottle is more economical.

Concrete Pavements Prove Economy in Middletown

Property owners of Middletown, Ohio, are not guessing when they tell you that concrete street paving is a sound investment—a real economy.

They have had twelve years in which to get the real facts in dollars and cents.

Middletown's first concrete paving was laid in 1914. It is still brand new, as far as service goes.

And it has cost little or nothing for maintenance.

Naturally, this modern, permanent pavement stands up under heaviest traffic, is safe to drive on in any weather, and makes the whole community look more prosperous because of its clean, handsome appearance.

What Middletown has found out about concrete paving, your city can profit by, beginning with the first concrete pavement put down.

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy.

MODISH MITZI—Polly Is Converted To Will Power Too By JAY V. JAY

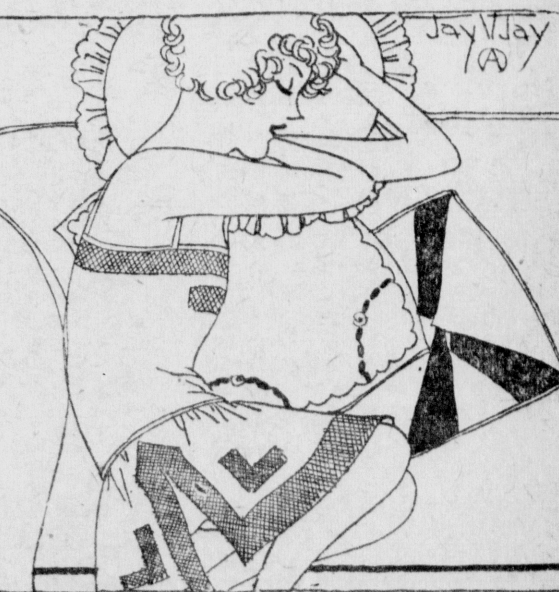

Nothing, in Polly's opinion, requires so much will power as getting up in the morning. That's why she began her course with early rising. If she can do this, she thinks, there's nothing wrong with her will power, and she won't have to study it. Admire her lace-trimmed nightgown—she won't mind.

It isn't much more than 6:30 now, and Polly is dressed for a brisk walk before breakfast. She wears a bolero frock of flat crepe, with a little underblouse of printed crepe. The skirt is short and has inverted pleats, which show insets of the printed silk when she walks.

Over the dress goes a coat with a box-pleated cape. The coat is of tweed, as most smart topeats are this season, but it is tweed of a soft, smoky blue, and Polly has found a little felt hat to match it. The beauty of early morning has been much overrated, in Polly's opinion.

Well, she did it! She got up at 6 o'clock and took a nice long walk before breakfast. She has even had her breakfast, and now, with a clear conscience and dressed in a silk combination edged with net, Polly feels that no one could accuse her of being lazy if she just dozes off to sleep again.

BATH HIGH WINS THREE PLACES ON MYTHICAL ALL-STAR TEAM

Mythical all-county first and second teams, both boys and girls, in the Greene County Basketball Association League, have been compiled from a list of selections made by coaches and superintendents of the various teams in the league. Selections are made on a majority vote basis.

Bath Twp. High boys, who finished in third place, are accorded three places on the first all-star quintet, Ross Twp. High, runner-up, is given two places, and oddity Cedarville High, winners of the league championship, is not represented on the first team but has two places on the second team.

Yellow Springs girls, winners of the championship in the feminine loop, have three selections on the first all-county girls' team with Ross also being allotted three positions.

FRED SMITH NAMED CENTRAL CAPTAIN FOR NEXT SEASON

Fred "Bull Dog" Smith, junior, will guide the destinies of Central High School's basketball team during the 1926-27 season. Smith was practically unanimously elected to the captaincy for next season to succeed Howell Huston, this season's leader, at a vote taken by the letter men at the high school Wednesday morning. Huston will be available next season.

Fred served his first season on the Central basketball quintet playing a guard position under Coach Vic Kolb's mentoring, and was one of the outstanding members of the team. He was one of the leaders in individual scoring and played a prominent part in every victory of the local team.

He also made the Central football eleven in his junior year, playing a full back position, and is considered one of the best all-around athletes ever produced at the E. Church St. school.

Selection of "Bull Dog" as captain is meeting with the enthusiastic approval of the student body at Central High.

QUOIT CLUB ROLLS RECORD TEAM SCORE IN BOWLING MATCH

Quoit Club bowlers ended their regular season in the Xenia Bowling League by covering themselves with glory in a match game with the Bayliffs Tuesday night in which the second-placers won the three games.

Two of the all-time records in the league were shattered. Quoit Club rolled a three-game total of 3,044, establishing what is believed to be the best mark ever reached by a five-man team in Xenia's bowling history. It easily exceeds the former league record of 2,933 set by Bob's Tires.

Second mark to be set was for high single game. Winners rolled 1,107 in their middle brush topping the previous record set by the Dice Brothers Lumber Co. team of 1,023.

Bayliffs rolling in their best form of the season, amassed a total of 2,836 pins but failed to win a game.

In rolling their huge count, three of the Quoit maple pushers bettered the 600 mark. Donley led the parade with 645, followed by Smith with 642, Short with 614, Wagner, 589 and White, 554. Leahy rolled 604 and B. Dice 623 to top the Bayliffs' attack.

Box score:
Bayliffs:
Free 212 207 178
Leahy 201 220 183
Whittington 153 189 163

ANTIOCH TEACHER HEARD IN DAYTON

Professor Edward Mathews, head of the shoe research department at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, was one of the principal speakers when more than 250 retail shoe salesmen from Dayton and surrounding counties were guests of their employers at a dinner-meeting at the Gibbons Hotel in Dayton Tuesday night.

Topic pertaining to retail selling was discussed by the Antioch professor, who has done unusual work in developing a hygienic, beautiful shoe for women, after long experimentation and planning.

Meeting was held for purpose of discussing better methods of selling and properly fitting shoes. Delegations were present from Xenia, Greenville, Franklin, Springfield and Richmond.

HURT IN FALL

While enroute to Kenton, O., for a visit, Mrs. Clarence Fulkerson, Springfield, Va., was painfully injured when she fell over a travel pole while in the Dayton depot, a few days ago. She was able to continue her trip but has been in bed since arriving in Kenton. No bones were broken but her injuries were severe. Mr. Fulkerson received bruises when he fell from a while trimming trees at his farm near Springfield, Va., Wednesday morning.

St. Evangelist Miss Sadie Hawthorne from Chicago, will preach Thursday and Friday nights. Come and hear her.

The fact that she was born with only one arm has not kept Hilda Hays, 16, from being a star performer on the girls' basketball team of the Dougherty, Okla., high school.

RAILROAD OBJECTS TO EXTENSION PLAN OF OSBORN BUS LINE

Charging his application is, in reality, a plan for consolidation of two certificates—from Osborn to Dayton, and Washington C. H. to Xenia—with an application pending before the commission for extension of his bus line from Xenia to Osborn, The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co. filed a protest Tuesday in Columbus objecting to the application of Carl E. Fent for permission from the Ohio Public Utilities Commission to increase equipment and establish through schedule of buses between southeastern Ohio cities.

If Fent's application is granted by the commission through service would be established from Dayton to Osborn and Xenia to Washington C. H. to the detriment of existing transportation lines, the B. and O. contends.

Fent's application was given a hearing by the commission last week, and the railroad was permitted to file protest. Case was taken under advisement.

Same permission to file a protest was granted to J. H. McClure, receiver for the I. C. and E. railway. McClure filed an objection against the bus operator being allowed to extend his route from Xenia to Osborn, change time schedule and add new equipment.

Complainant points out the I. C. and E. is giving hourly transportation service between Dayton and Osborn, and that through bus service is unnecessary.

Says He Felt Drunk

Most of the Time
Brooklyn, Mr. Fred G. Marquart writes:—"I felt drunk most of the time. My head was dizzy. I couldn't think clearly. One day I dropped a coin and when I stooped to get it I got so dizzy I almost fell. I later found out that the cause of this condition was constipation. This was overcome by a short course of Carter's Little Liver Pills. My appetite has doubled, and my dizziness has entirely left me." Carter's Little Liver Pills move the bowels and relieve the system of its poisonous matter. Druggists, 25 & 75c red packages

Keeps Hair Combed, Glossy

Well-Groomed all Day

"Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which costs only a few cents a jar at any drugstore.

Millions use it because it gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to the hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. Even stubborn unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is greaseless; also helps grow thick, heavy, lustrous hair.—Adv.

MANY YEARS BACK, some gent wrote a book on the fifteen greatest battles of the world. After Monday night this volume became obsolete when Stanislaus Loayza, fighting son of Chile, bested Phil McGraw, the pugnacious Greek, of Detroit, in the best ten-round affray ever witnessed in New York city, and as far as I know, in the world. Every scene of the battle was a thriller, for there wasn't a let-up all the way. On the left, Loayza (left) and McGraw (right) both stumble during furious mix-up in the fourth round. Right-hand view shows McGraw down in the seventh round.

ALIMONY SOUGHT BY WOMAN WHO ALLEGES MAN DESERTED HER

Louisa Byrd has brought suit for alimony in Common Pleas Court against William Byrd, Sr., and William Byrd, Jr., as guardian of William Byrd, Sr., alleging that her husband's guardian persuaded him to leave her.

They were married April 7, 1915, and her husband deserted her January 1, 1926, she claims, after he had been influenced to take such action by William Byrd, who had himself appointed her husband's guardian.

She alleges the guardian bank-drew all money in a Xenia bank which was in the name of her husband and herself and published a notice in a Dayton newspaper that he would not be responsible for her debts, forcing her to turn to her son for food and fuel. Her husband has a one-half interest in a lot in Xenia and draws a pension of $72 per month, she avers.

SEEKS DIVORCE

Alleging that the defendant refuses to support her and their son aged eight, and has further made threats to kidnap the child, Eula Malotte has brought suit for divorce and alimony and allowance for support of the child, from Byrd Malotte in Common Pleas Court. They were married in 1916.

Mrs. Hattie Caldwell

Cincinnati, Ohio. — "About four years ago I suffered a nervous breakdown caused by overwork. I had such pains in my head and back I just had to stop all my work. Sometimes I would nearly fall with dizziness. My doctor did me no good, said I would have to go away. I was just about to give up when I saw Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription advertised in a paper, and I decided to try it. I got a bottle and soon got more strength. I told my family I would try another bottle, and after taking three bottles I was well. I now have rosy cheeks and perfect health."—Mrs. Hattie Caldwell, 12 W. 9th St.

Obtain Dr. Pierce's Prescription now, in liquid or tablets, from your druggist.—Adv.

lines along the Xenia main line.

Machinery arrived in Xenia three weeks ago and several attempts have been made along the line to find water. Drilling will continue to follow along the railroad and creek until a well of sufficient depth and water is found, railroad officials say.

With the discovery of sufficient water through drilling, the water will be piped into the pump house, near the Pennsylvania station and tanks filled for engines going through Xenia. Drillers are now operating in the railroad park, S. Detroit St.

MARTINS FERRY, O., Mar. 10.—(UP)—The city's new $400,000 water and light plant is being tested. The combination is being viewed with interest by mechanical and hydraulic engineers.

The Theatre

"Where are the shows of yesterday?" asks Brock Pemberton, producer of "Six Characters in Search of an Author," the current release of "The Theater Magazine."

"There was a time," he goes on to say, "not so many years ago when we produced plays with both eyes on the road and only a squint at the New York boxoffice, for the road was where the goose of the golden eggs lived. Now we try to guess what New York wants without thought of whether the 'Hinterland' will be interested."

Fifteen years ago, according to Mr. Pemberton's figures, some thirty odd theaters were given over from eight to nine months of the year to legitimate plays, in New York; now there are almost seventy, at least twenty of which manage to remain open throughout the year. The season that began in 1910 brought forth 122 new productions, last season 264 were made.

Two factors more mundane than the motor-movie-radio trilogy, which cause a howl along Theater

Row, he says, control the New York theater today—real estate values and ticket speculators. Working separately toward its own selfish end, each has helped establish a new regime, a regime in which a play upon production becomes an immediate hit or a failure. Only a few years ago almost any fairly good play was pretty certain of a fairly decent run. Today a fairly good play or a fine play or a downright poor play will run a few weeks or a season. It's a hit or a failure.

The Telephone's Birthday

FIFTY years ago today a significant sentence was uttered. It was, "Mr. Watson, come here, I want you," and it was Alexander Graham Bell who spoke it. Those seven words, carried over a wire to the inventor's assistant, Thomas A. Watson, marked the real birth of the telephone.

Since that March day in 1876, the telephone has developed into one of the most vital factors in the country's life. Fifty years ago the telephone spoke one feeble sentence. Today 50,000,000 conversations are conducted daily over the lines of the Bell System connecting nearly 17,000,000 telephones.

The history of our country and of the telephone have been closely related during the last 50 years. In fact the telephone played an important part in the writing of that history.

Today, the telephone is aiding the country's business and social life as never before. The wheels of the great industrial organizations turn by its assistance and its aid is facilitating the transaction of the affairs of states, individuals and business enterprises. It stands ready day and night to meet whatever demands are made of it, whether to carry the message across the street or across the continent.

In this semi-centennial year The Ohio Bell Telephone Company looks forward to continued progress in telephonic communication.

GAS BUGGIES—Rapid Addition

AFTER PUMPING CORNELIA AND PHINNEY FOR INFORMATION ABOUT THE TROUBLE BETWEEN THEM AND AMY, MR. POTTS, THE CORNER GROCERYMAN, TELLS THE WORLD ABOUT IT.

SHE'D BEEN FLYING HIGH AND HE GOT SORE -- I UNDERSTAND IT WAS OVER SOME MAGAZINE PUBLISHER -- THEY GOT TOO FAST FOR HIM -- THE CROWD DID -- SO HE THREW HER OUT -- SHE TRIED TO HAVE HIM PINCHED BUT COULDN'T MAKE IT STICK -- THEY'RE LIVING APART NOW AND I HEAR THE NEXT THING IS A DIVORCE --

THAT'S JUST WHAT I'VE BEEN EXPECTING -- SHE GOT TO RUNNIN' WILD SINCE SHE TOOK UP A CAREER --

MR. POTTS KNOWS 'EM WELL -- THEY DEAL THERE, AND HE SAYS SHE GOT TOO FRISKY AND HER HUSBAND TOSSED HER DOWN A FLIGHT OF STAIRS -- I AIN'T SEEN HER HOME SINCE, SO I GUESS SHE'S STILL IN THE HOSPITAL --

IT'S NO SURPRISE TO ME -- I KNEW HE WAS NO GOOD WHEN THEY FIRED HIM OUT OF HIS CLUB -- A MAN WHO MAKES HIS WIFE WORK IS A SKUNK, I SAY --

AND DO YOU KNOW -- SHE EVEN WENT 'ROUND AND ASKED HIM TO TAKE HER BACK -- HE JUST SLAMMED THE DOOR IN HER FACE -- FINALLY SHE SUB-LET SOMEBODY'S PLACE IN THE BROKEN-ARMS APARTMENT --

WAIT TILL I SEE HULDA -- WON'T I TELL HER A FEW THINGS -- SHE'S ALWAYS HOLDING IT UP TO ME ABOUT THE SWELLS WHO LIVE THERE -- SAYS I WORK IN A DUMP --
